Czechs Assert 'Right'

BUDAPEST (AP) — A meeting of Communist parties to prepare for a world conference in Moscow later this year opened today with Romania and Yugoslavia absent and Czechoslovakia reminding the Soviet Union it insists on "noninterference and the possibility to present one's views."

Romania and Yugoslavia regard the talks as just a formal way of reasserting Soviet dominance over the world's Communist parties.

The new leadership of the Czechoslovak party has made it clear it would not agree with such a course. This was stressed again today by the Slovak Communist party newspaper, Pravda.

It said the world movement would create the best conditions for the "largest possible participation" in the world conference "if it succeeds in deepening more consistently the process of democratization which is to be understood as respect for the principle of the equality of parties, noninterference and a possibility to present one's views."

Reports from Prague Tuesday said the Czechoslovak delegation, headed by Jozef Lenart, former premier and present Central Committee secretary, was instructed to walk out if Czechoslovakia's new course comes under attack.

The session opened in the Budapest's Gellert Hotel which was sealed off for the duration of the conference, expected to last 10 to 12 days.

The exact number of participants was not yet known.

Absent parties included Red China, Albania—which oppose the world conference—and several Asian parties which apparently don't want to be forced to choose between China and Russia.

Changes Sought By Londoners

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of London dock workers struck again today to demand restrictions on the immigration of colored workers to Britain.

The walkouts were in support of Conservative politician Enoch Powell, who was purged from the opposition party's high command for opposing the Labor government's proposed new anti-discrimination law with an inflammatory speech.

Thirteen ships were left idle when about 550 longshoremen refused to go to work at one group of docks. Another 150 walked off the docks at Deptford in a 24-hour strike.

In London's Smithfield Market workers put more than 3,000 signatures on a petition supporting Powell, and 600 men said they would march to the House of Commons to present it.

More than 1,500 longshoremen marched to Commons Tuesday to express support for Powell when the house began debate on the bill. But unless the protests from the workers gave Prime Minister Harold Wilson cold feet, the government's bill to ban racial discrimination in jobs and housing appears certain to become law this summer.

Commons approved the bill in principle Tuesday night, voting 313-209, and sent it to committee for additional study before it is presented for final passage.

No Change in Status Of Swing-Wing US Bombers

SAIGON (AP) — No F111s flew against North Vietnam Tuesday, but a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon implied tonight that the $6-million, swing-wing fighter-bomber has not been grounded again after its third crash in a month.

"There has been no change in the status of the F111," said the spokesman after a day of rumors and inquiries. He would not elaborate.

In Washington, the Pentagon refused to comment and said any information would have to come from Saigon.

There was no indication whether any F111s were used in the raids on North Vietnam today. Normally reports on the days air operations would not be given until Thursday.

Spreading Unrest At University

NEW YORK (AP) — A demonstration at Columbia University that locked a dean in his office overnight spread today from Columbia College's major classroom to the university's main administration building.

City police moved onto the campus about 8 a.m. but no arrests were made.

Shortly before they arrived, about 200 students moved their protest against construction of a gymnasium on a nearby Harlem park and against a defense-oriented program involving the university, from the Hamilton Hall classroom building to the administration center, Low Memorial Library.

A police captain ordered students to leave the administration building and said anyone who refused would be arrested.

However, Tony Papert, a member of the committee which organized the protest, said an undetermined number of students decided to remain until their demands were met.

Several hundred other students headed down the library steps to Hamilton Hall, where the all-night sit-in by students and neighborhood youths, predominantly Negro, continued.

The students massed in front of the building, where 300 students had barricaded Dean Henry S. Coleman and other officials in their offices.

The protest, organized by the Students for a Democratic Society, began around noon Tuesday when some 500 demonstrators gathered in front of Low Memorial Library, the main administrative building.

The organizers charged that construction of the gymnasium in Morningside Park would be "racist" and deprive Negroes in the area of recreation facilities.

Bike Inspections To End Thursday

The Sunrise Optimist Club and the Sedalia Police Department's bicycle safety program will conclude Thursday with inspections of bicycles at Whittier, Jefferson and Washington Schools.

Lt. Jewell Riley and Officer Larry Melton of the Sedalia Police Department conducted the safety inspection at each school. The inspection includes a bicycle safety check, a written exam and an obstacle course. Manuals on safety are also distributed at each school.

The schedule for Thursday is: Whittier, 9 a.m.; Jefferson 10:30 a.m.; and Washington, 1 p.m.

No Change in Status Of Swing-Wing US Bombers

The third F111 lost on Vietnam duty disappeared Monday night, and North Vietnam claimed today its forces had shot down the plane over Quang Binh, the province just north of the demilitarized zone. It said nothing about the two crewmen.

The U.S. Command said the plane was believed to have crashed in Thailand, but it gave no further information on the plane or the fate of the crew.

The North Vietnamese also claimed to have shot down the F111s which were lost March 28 and March 30. U.S. officers believe the first plane crashed in a remote area of Thailand or Laos, and the wreckage of the second was found in northern Thailand. Its crash was attributed to a capsule of sealing material, mistakenly left by mechanics, that became lodged in the flight controls. The two crew members bailed out and were rescued.

Six F111s arrived at Ta Khli air base in Thailand March 17 and went into combat March 25. They were grounded for 11 days after the crash March 30 and have flown combat missions on about 17 days in all. Two additional F111s were brought in to replace the first two losses.

US, Reds Are Sure Of Nuclear Treaty

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union were reported confident today that they would overcome opposition and win the U.N. General Assembly's approval of the proposed treaty banning the further spread of nuclear weapons.

This word came from informed quarters as the 123-nation assembly gathered to resume its 22nd session, which was suspended last December to permit final negotiations on the treaty by the 17-nation Disarmament Committee in Geneva.

Debate on the so-called non-proliferation treaty is expected to begin in the assembly's main political committee Friday after work of the session is organized and Mauritius, a former British territory in the Indian Ocean, has been admitted to U.N. membership.

Also on the agenda for the session is the Middle East situation and South Africa's refusal to transfer the administration of South-West Africa to the United Nations.

Soviet and American sources discounted speculation that opponents of the U.S.-Soviet draft treaty on nonproliferation might be able to sidetrack action until the fall session of the assembly. It was agreed that this idea had substantial backing, but neither of the big powers seemed in the mood for yielding.

Moscow and Washington also appeared to be firm against any major amendments to the draft they worked out privately.

The outlook was that the draft probably would be approved by the assembly, after a long debate, and that by the end of May it would be submitted to governments for ratification. The United States, the Soviet Union and Britain have agreed that if the treaty is adopted they will give guarantees to non-nuclear countries that they will come to their aid in the event of a nuclear attack.

The main reservations have been advanced by West Germany, Japan, Italy, Romania, Brazil and India. They object partly because they are not sure they will be able to get nuclear materials needed for peaceful uses.

Other Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps planes were out in force Tuesday to continue bombing highways, barges, gun positions and other targets in the section of North Vietnam left open to air raids by President Johnson's curtailment orders.

All Internal Revenue Service Offices within the State of Missouri will have new hours of duty according to Lacy P. Belt, Representative of the District Director, effective Monday, April 29.

Instead of from 8:15 to 5:00, the new hours of duty will be from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

13 Persons Killed, 207 Hurt in Storms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes ripped into small communities in Kentucky and Ohio Tuesday, spreading death and destruction. Twisters also struck two towns in Michigan, causing damage but no deaths.

The count of dead rose to 13. Included were 4 in Falmouth, Ky., 1 near Augusta, Ky., 6 in Wheelersburg, Ohio, 1 in Clermont County, Ohio, and 1 in Brown County, Ohio.

The storms injured 207 persons, left more than 700 homeless and wrought damage in excess of $2 million.

"We were going through a taste of death right there," reported Henry Dance, 77, a Falmouth resident who was at home with his wife.

"It sounded like a clap of thunder," he said, "and then the roof began to fall. Holding on to each other, we fell down by the divan and part of the floor fell on us. The Lord saved us, that's all."

A residential area of about six square blocks bore the brunt of the storm in Falmouth, a community of 2,600 in northern Kentucky. The business section of town was largely spared.

The twister, swirling out of thunderstorms Tuesday, struck at midafternoon at points near the Ohio river.

"We saw the funnel coming," reported Mrs. William Clinger, who works at the Falmouth Outlook, a weekly newspaper. "All of us ran into the basement. There was a horrible noise, like a train coming. Then it hit."

Mrs. Lewis Mockbee, 72, said, "It just began to blow, then the hail came, breaking out windows. I got down into a corner and prayed." The Mockbee home was spared, but a garage was destroyed.

Hearnes Asks Rains' Service On Committee

Rep. Joe F. Rains, of District 115, has been requested by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes to serve on the committee known as "Task Force on Older Missourians." The committee is an advisory group to the Office of Aging, Department of Community Affairs, which administers this program.

Joseph M. Rowley, director of the Department of Community Affairs, lauded Representative Rains for his tireless efforts in behalf of elderly Americans when informed Rains had been requested to serve on the committee. Rowley said, "Representative Rains has voted consistently in the Missouri House of Representatives for all legislation beneficial to these people, and he should therefore be recognized for his efforts."

Rowley's praise came from Rep. Rains' tireless efforts in implementing the governor's program for the aged, and for his interest in programs made possible by the Older Americans Act of 1965.

Backwoods Humor Spices CTA Banquet

Timothy Hayes, Whoop-Up, U.S.A., with his chin whiskers, battered hat and his ill-fitting clothes, kept the audience laughing Tuesday evening at the Sedalia Community Teachers Association banquet at Smith-Cotton Cafeteria, with his backwoods chatter on Whoop-Up.

They considered a one-way street in Whoop-Up, he said, but since there was only one street they didn't know how folks could get back in town. And then he told about being able to identify 24 birds. Of course, he added, they were all sparrows, but that was better than they did in Jefferson City.

There are three signs of old age, he remarked, one being loss of memory. He hesitated a minute and then admitted: "I can't remember the other two."

But when he concluded his purely humorous talk and walked out, Harry Browder, vice-president of CTA and chairman of the program, announced that Timothy Hayes is really Jack Taylor, assistant director in the office of public administration at the University of Missouri, Columbia.

There is, however, a local connection, for this famous comedian, who makes talks all over the country, was editor of the Sedalia Capital in the 1930's. Presiding over the meeting

Alternatives to Assist Industrial Development

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes today proposed two alternatives to help promote industrial development in Missouri and counter a federal threat against the present tax exemption on municipal industrial bonds.

He suggested use of the present law on development finance corporations and a state industrial finance authority.

Hearnes made the proposals in a speech prepared for an opening session of the 10th annual Industrial Development Conference.

Earlier this year the Internal Revenue Service announced an order to end the tax exempt status of municipal industrial bonds, a major source of financing industrial development projects by cities and towns across Missouri.

The tax exemption provision was a big selling point for the bonds, both in the campaign to get them authorized and in the actual sale.

The U.S. Senate blocked the abrupt action by the IRS but voted instead to end the tax exemption at the end of this calendar year. The decision now is up to a House-Senate conference.

Authority for the development finance corporations was granted by the Legislature in 1961 but so far no one has taken advantage of it.

Under its provisions, three (See HEARNES, Page 4A.)

Will Not Lead 'White March'

NEW YORK (AP) — Industrialist Henry Ford and financier David Rockefeller disagree with civil rights leader Whitney Young Jr. that they should lead a "white march" on Washington to prove white America's commitment to racial equality.

Both said Tuesday they believed their efforts to win more jobs for Negroes, among other activities, would be more effective than organizing such a march.

Young, executive director of the National Urban League, suggested the white march earlier Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

He said such a march of hundreds of thousands of whites, led by men like Ford, Rockefeller and labor leader George Meany may be the "last chance" the nation has to avoid rebellion by poor and frustrated Negroes.

Rockefeller said he wondered "whether business cannot contribute more effectively to the solution of racial discrimination and other urban problems through organizations such as Mr. Young's own Urban League and the Urban Coalition rather than through participation in public demonstrations."

"It seems to me that the wisest course would be for the business community to accelerate its growing effort to provide training and jobs for minorities and lend even greater support in dealing with education, housing and welfare."

Ford said: "I am interested in his ideas and I have great respect for his judgment but I am not convinced that marching on Washington is the best way for me to make an effective contribution to the lessening of racial tensions."

End of Telephone Strike May Be Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of some 165,000 striking telephone workers has predicted that settlement of the week-old nationwide walkout may not be too far off.

"There is absolutely no doubt in my mind that the Communications Workers will have an overwhelming win, and in the not too distant future," said union Pres. Joseph A. Beirne.

While there have been no formal wage negotiations since the strike began in some 40 states, Beirne said Tuesday informal talks with the Bell Telephone System were continuing.

Informed sources said negotiators were apparently trying to work out the broad outlines of a settlement that could be completed later in formal talks.

In New York, Patrick Morgan, chairman of the union's 23,000-member unit of telephone installers, met in what were described as informal, exploratory talks with J. F. Griggs, manager of Labor relations for Western Electric Co.

The installers, highest-paid telephone workers at an average of $3.27 per hour, traditionally set the pattern for wage increases in the Bell Telephone System, of which Western Electric is a subsidiary.

Veteran Arrested For Helping

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A Vietnam veteran is in jail here after being arrested during the recent disturbances when he allegedly went to the aid of the police and National Guardsmen.

Army Pvt. Roy Meadows was arrested for breaking a curfew that was slapped on the city by Mayor Ilius Davis when rioting broke out following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

"I've told myself a thousand times how dumb I was," Meadows said Tuesday. "But you know how it is."

Meadows said he heard on the radio the night of April 10 that police and National Guardsmen were pinned down by sniper fire. He was home on leave before leaving for his next base in Germany.

"You heard that your buddies were pinned down in the Delta," Meadows said about his Vietnam tour. "and you went in to get them out. It didn't matter what happened to you. You had to go in."

According to Meadows, he left his aunt's home where he was staying and hitched a ride with an unidentified man on a motorcycle.

"The police stopped us. They frisked us both and the guy I had the ride with had a pistol which was broken down. I didn't know that."

An attorney for the Legal Aid and Defender Society, Richard Unruh, said he saw Meadows in the jail.

"He kept talking about the men who were pinned down and how he knew the troops were in trouble and he had to try and help them," Unruh said.

Unable to come up with a $100 fine, Meadows was sentenced to 50 days at the farm. If not freed before his time is up, he will miss being at Ft. Dix, N.J., on May 3 for a troop movement to Germany.

"I know it was dumb, but hearing that those guys were pinned down made me want to go in and help," Meadows said. "When you go in the U.S. Army you swear you will preserve the peace. It doesn't make any difference if it's in the Mekong Delta or in Kansas City."

Whittier PTA Meeting Held

Whittier PTA met April 18 in the school gym.

Mrs. Kenneth Keele sang "Because He Cared," for the inspirational.

The school orchestra played several selections, under the direction of Mrs. Edith Donath. Mrs. Donath introduced the first year viola and violin students who played a short selection. The gym was decorated with an art display.

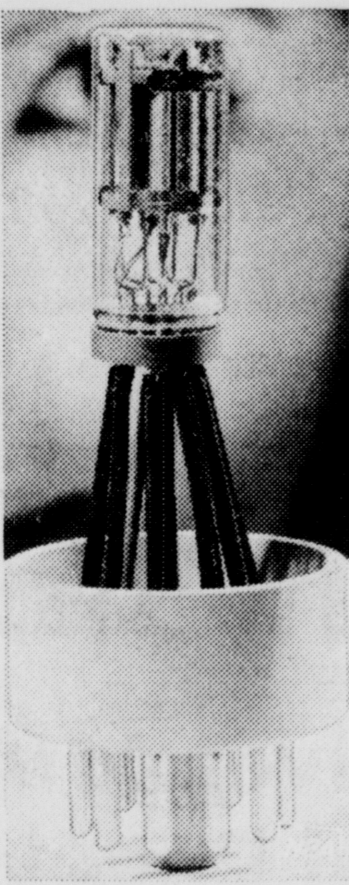

Miss Anna M. Wingfield and Miss Letha Shaw were honored as this is their last year of teaching and each was presented with a gift and a poem.

Room count was taken with awards going to the room taught by Mrs. Dorothy Ault, downstairs and Donald Reynolds upstairs.

The officers for the new year were installed and an appreciation tea followed.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Guerrillas killed 14 members of a Thai police patrol in the worst ambush government forces have suffered in the three-year battle against growing Communist forces, the interior minister reported today.

Gen. Praphas Charusathien said an estimated 100 Communists ambushed the border patrol in northern Chiang Rai Province last Wednesday and only two of the 20 policemen escaped uninjured in the 12-hour battle. Three policemen were wounded and one is missing.

He said government casualties for the week were 16 killed, 13 wounded and three missing, while one terrorist was killed, nine were captured and four surrendered.

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—The Irish will pay higher prices for beer, imported liquor, tobacco and gasoline under the government's new budget, presented to parliament Tuesday.

Finance Minister Charles Haughey also warned that taxes would be increased if spending goes up too much.

The budget provides for an increase of 90 cents a week in pensions for widows, orphans, the elderly, the blind and unemployed and grants a special tax deduction of $240 to newlyweds.

Cigarettes went up 2 cents a package and gasoline and other motor fuel 2 cents a gallon. The price of beer was raised a penny a pint and liquor imported from anywhere but Britain will cost 6 cents more a glass.

SHANGUGU, Rwanda (AP)—A group of 140 white mercenaries led by Belgian Col. Jean Schramme began to leave for Europe today. They have been held in Rwanda since they were driven from the Congo in November.

The repatriation is being carried out under International Red Cross auspices. The group left Shangugu aboard heavily guarded trucks for the 190-mile trip to Kigali, where planes waited to take them to Europe via Khar-toum.

The mercenaries and Katangan soldiers rebelled last spring and held out in the eastern Congo town of Bukavu for several months.

TOKYO (AP)—Armed fights, equipment damage and work stoppages resulting from Mao Tse-tung's purge campaign caused Red China to miss its industrial and communications goals last year, Premier Chou En-lai has said.

A Canton publication seen in translation in Tokyo today said Chou told 10,000 persons on Peking Feb. 2 that Mao's purge "will perhaps last three years" but might end in 1969.

Grants for Airport Improvements Made

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. Warren E. Hearnes has approved state grants of $31,500 to three cities for airport improvements. Cities must match the state money.

The grants were to: Rolla, $15,000 for a taxiway lighting system and automobile parking lot. Memphis, $1,500 for a low intensity lighting system. Kirksville, $15,000 for airport improvements.

They brought to $155,687 the amount of state airport aid awarded since last July 1.

Trudeau Calls For Election

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's swinging new prime minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, betting that his charisma will win his Liberal party a majority, has called a general election after four days in office.

Parliament returned from a 25-day recess Tuesday to hear Trudeau tell it, it was dissolved and elections would be held June 25. The House of Commons responded with prolonged applause.

Trudeau told newsmen there is an atmosphere of uncertainty in Canada that an early election would dispel. He said he and his Liberal party are seeking the support of the people for a "comprehensive program of reform."

The Liberals have been the largest party in Commons since they won the April, 1963, general election, but they have never had a majority and have been forced to depend on the support of the smaller parties. At dissolution, the Liberals held 128 of the 265 seats in Commons.

Trudeau, a dynamic 48-year-old bachelor whose appeal to younger voters has been compared to the late President Kennedy's, apparently hopes to capitalize on the considerable publicity he has generated since the Liberals chose him to succeed Lester B. Pearson on April 6. By law he did not have to call an election until 1970.

In choosing Trudeau, the Liberal convention passed over a field of experienced and familiar political figures and picked a handsome French-Canadian better known for his miniskirted girl friends and sports cars than for political activities.

Opposition leader Robert Stanfield, 54, whose Conservatives had 94 seats in the outgoing House of Commons, also is a newcomer to Ottawa. After 20 years in the Conservative leadership in Nova Scotia, he was provincial premier when elected last September to succeed John Diefenbaker as the party's national leader.

Freeman Responds To Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman says his department would need new power from Congress and billions of dollars to provide the food aid envisioned by a citizen group which reports some 10 million Americans are constantly hungry.

Freeman commented Tuesday following issuance of a report by a 25-member Citizens Board of Inquiry into Hunger and Nutrition.

The group recommended the Agriculture Department be stripped of responsibility for administering the food-stamp program, contending it is more concerned with assuring profits for farmers than with the plight of the poverty-stricken.

Freeman said he welcomed the citizens' group to what "has often been a lonely battle to eradicate hunger," adding that support for his department's efforts in this has been "in short supply over the past seven years." He became secretary in 1961.

"We would do even more if we had more money to do it with," Freeman said in a statement. He said the department reached its budget limit in the current fiscal year on extending food stamps. Persons in the program buy the food stamps and use them in grocery stores to buy food, paying a lower price, with the difference made up by the government.

The citizens' group recommended use of free food stamps rather than the discount stamps.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Where the Girls Are," NBC's special Tuesday night, was an excellent example of the current vogue in TV variety. It consisted of some interesting music, uninhibited camera work, and lots of color and sight gags.

Much of the time the musical numbers were accompanied by camera work that made them look like those soft drink commercials aimed at the fun-loving teens. And, most of the time, the comedy looked like bits and pieces left over from Monday night's "Rowan and Ma Martin's Laugh-in." As a matter of fact, Dick Martin turned out for one gag. He played a duck hunter who took a shot skyward and was rewarded by a rain of shotguns—that's a sight-gag, Daphne, and it's a good thing it's rerun time because the stockpile of items like that is getting low.

Noel Harrison, who has a pleasant way with a song, was the show's host. He was particularly attractive in the number "Gentle on My Mind." Don Adams was around in his secret agent role, which is getting to be a bit tedious. And there was Cher who as everybody knows is Sonny's wife. She had a couple of songs as did Barbara McNair, and two groups, the Byrds and The Association.

Later CBS showed an unusual biographical film, "The Weapons of Gordon Parks," a rather introspective study of and by a Negro who is a superb photographer and an articulate philosopher.

The film started by showing Parks typing, while his voice told in words that were almost poetry, of his emotions and observations while witnessing the execution of a man in a gas chamber.

The most moving portion of the program came when Parks recalled the poverty he found in Brazil and told of finding there a boy, Flavio, dying of disease and malnutrition. Memorable photographs of the boy and his family were shown, including the famous closeup of the child, a tear glistening on his cheek.

Viet Police Chief Will Not Budge

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's controversial national police chief has told his chief American adviser that withholding of American funds and equipment won't force him to fire police officials the Americans consider corrupt or inefficient.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan wrote U.S. adviser John Manopolis he would pay no attention to U.S. reports on police personnel "when they threaten to withdraw support as a means of applying pressure."

"If your division sees fit to cut aid to any police unit as a means of applying pressure, please feel free to do so," Loan said in the letter, written April 1.

Manopolis is on leave outside Vietnam and was not available for comment.

Manopolis' office had forwarded to Loan several reports from U.S. advisers in the field with evidence of corruption or gross incompetence on the part of police officials, sources said.

One of the reports concerned Lu Van Vinh, police chief of Vung Tau, a seaside resort southeast of Saigon and a major recreation area for U.S. soldiers.

The mayor of Vung Tau was recently removed for corruption, and the U.S. report sent Loan charged that Vinh had condoned kickbacks, bribes, illegal licensing, gambling and prostitution. The report asked that he be removed. When Vinh was not fired, his U.S. adviser was called back to Saigon, and all financial and material aid to the Vung Tau police was cut off.

U.S. aid to the 78,000-man national police force and 13,000-man police field force is budgeted at $19.1 million, plus $297,000 to train Vietnamese police in the United States. The CIA also supports some police activities, but the amount of this is secret.

Regulations Should Be Cut, Barnett Says

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Frank E. Barnett of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the Union Pacific, said Tuesday government regulation over railroads should be decreased, not increased.

He made the comment in regard to an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner's recommendation that minimum standards be set by the ICC for passenger trains.

The examiner's report said the standards should include meal service on trains operating more than 25 miles, sleeping cars on overnight runs, regular diner-lounge cars for trains with 12 hours or more running time, and air-conditioned cars.

The railroad executive said the U.P. is particularly opposed to one part of the report "to the extent that it points toward government ownership or operation of railroad facilities."

Landing Craft Success

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A doughnut-shaped Mars landing craft has successfully sent out radio signals for an hour after an 80-mile-an-hour impact on the desert, the Jet Propulsion Laboratory says.

The test was "a major step in a program to demonstrate the feasibility of sending a lightweight scientific landing capsule to Mars in the near future," scientists said Monday of the test that took place two weeks ago.

'Modern' Church Is Talk Topic

By BEN BROWN
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "The church in the modern world" is the topic of a pastoral letter being drafted by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh said Tuesday that the first part of the proposed letter would deal with general principles. The second part, he added, would include subtopics on peace, family life, and how the church contributes to the culture of the world.

A spokesman for the more than 250 bishops attending the conference said the letter would not be ready for distribution until later in the year.

The bishops opened their three day meeting Tuesday, discussing a report on racism by the social action department of the U.S. Catholic Conference.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, chairman of the conference, said the original report on racism was approved without deletion, although some additions from church leaders were incorporated in the original text. Because of the additions the report will not be released until later this week.

Bishop Wright said the report "reflects the concern that the black community be given a role" in implementing the recommendations. He indicated the report would call for an ecumenical battle against racial prejudice.

The bishops also approved a request from catholic university of America that the dioceses nearly double their annual contributions to the Washington D. C. institution, raising it from $2.4 million to $4.5 million.

The Most Rev. Leo C. Byrne, bishop coadjutor of St. Paul-Minneapolis, was named to replace the late Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan of Atlanta on the liturgical commission.

NEW YORK (AP) — The 10 George Foster Peabody Awards presented to networks for "distinguished achievement by television and radio" during 1967 have been shared this way—five to the National Broadcasting Co., four to the Columbia Broadcasting System and one to the American Broadcasting Co.

The 28th annual Peabody Awards—being presented at a luncheon today—include citations to Bob Hope, Ed Sullivan and Eric Sevareid.

The award for outstanding television entertainment went to "C.B.S. Playhouse" "for exploring admirable themes and maintaining a high level of purpose and achievement."

"Africa," an ABC four-hour documentary, was honored for its "contribution to international understanding."

NBC's "The Eternal Light," the oldest religious dramatic show in broadcasting, was cited for education.

The awards are named in honor of George Foster Peabody, a native of Columbus, Ga., who became a prominent New York banker and philanthropist. The University of Georgia's School of Journalism is the administrator of the awards.

Attempts a Coalition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is trying in his still-unannounced bid for the Democratic presidential nomination to forge on a national scale the kind of farm-labor coalition he helped create in Minnesota.

To the surprise of no one Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman came out for Humphrey Tuesday. He said he had told President Johnson in advance of his intentions and added that he thinks Johnson is going to remain neutral.

Humphrey, who has made it clear he will run on the administration's record, already has the backing of AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Humphrey and Freeman—once a political protege of the vice president—and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a candidate for the presidential nomination, all worked together to build the Democrat-Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota out of the wreckage of what had been the regular Democratic organization.

In other political developments: —McCarthy, alone on Pennsylvania's presidential primary ballot, outpolled write-in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy 10 to 1 and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey even more. On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon outpolled New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller 3 to 1, both with write-in votes.

The unofficial count: Democrats (5,337 of 9,460 precincts) —McCarthy 219,802, Kennedy 22,848, Humphrey 18,040, President Johnson 6,557, former Alabama Gov. George Wallace 5,374; Republicans (5,115 precincts)—Nixon 49,689, Rockefeller 18,589, California Gov. Ronald Reagan 2,631, Wallace, 2,428, Johnson 699, Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer 365.

—Nixon carried his campaign to Oregon today, still not knowing whether he will have an active opponent in the May 28 primary there. Reagan is on the ballot but his Oregon manager says there is no indication whether Reagan will campaign.

—Kennedy, pledging "I'm going to help the elderly," told a Huntington, Ind., audience minimum Social Security payments should be $150 for couples and $100 for individuals.

—McCarthy said in New York that Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford's statement the South

Vietnamese will assume more of the fighting "doesn't seem to square with the announcement that we are sending in more troops and calling on more reserves."

While Freeman's support provides Humphrey an official linkage of sorts for a national farm-labor coalition, the political value of the secretary's backing remains to be demonstrated.

Farmers have a way of blaming secretaries of agriculture for low prices on their products and high prices on what they buy.

Along with Freeman into the Humphrey camp went Asst. Secretary of Agriculture John A. Baker, a former official of the National Farmers Union.

The vote of the farmers and the small town residents they help support could be valuable to Humphrey in his efforts to gather convention delegates in the midlands.

The vice president recognizes that he needs help in that area as well as from the unions in the big industrial states and from party regulars in the South to offset the strength that Kennedy confidently expects to gain from New York and California.

Powell Has Goals

LONDON (AP) — Enoch Powell, the man at the center of Britain's race row, is a cold-eyed intellectual intent on driving the Conservative party hard to the right.

His gaunt white face and downturned mouth are as grim as the industrial area of Wolverhampton that he represents in the House of Commons.

Although a way-out Tory of almost feudalistic views, Powell has gained strong following among the workers as well as the upper classes in the English Midlands. They call him "Nocker."

Powell, 56, is still sifting through the huge pile of letters —mostly "for" he claims—sent him after his speech last Saturday. In it he called for the gates to be closed to colored immigrants into Britain and for colored people already here to be encouraged to go home.

Conservative party leader Edward Heath fired Powell from the party's high command, not because of his recommendations but because of the tone of the speech, which Heath and most major newspapers said was inflammatory and racist.

But Powell said he was right —"the response from people up and down the country proves that."

Powell, the new hero of the workers, has a most unworker background.

A Latin and Greek scholar and poet and master of 10 languages, he won a double first at Cambridge and became a fellow of Trinity College.

At the outbreak of World War II he was professor of Greek at the University of Sydney, Australia. He returned to Britain, joined the army as a private, and in five years was a brigadier.

After the war, Powell turned down the chair of Greek at Durham University, turned to politics and won the Wolverhampton seat for the Conservatives.

Tight Money Only Weapon Available

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is battling inflation with the one weapon it most wanted to avoid—tight money.

But there are increasing signs in Congress that two big guns—a tax hike and cuts in federal spending—may soon be added to the arsenal of weapons against rising prices.

Some government officials are convinced Congress is now in a mood to act on taxes although the details—including the spending cuts on which congressmen have insisted—still must be worked out.

It's doubtful, however, that Uncle Sam will begin collecting higher taxes from individual Americans—even if Congress finally approves—before July 1, nine months after President Johnson wanted them to take effect.

In proposing the 10 per cent income tax surcharge last Aug. 3, Johnson indicated a desire to avoid a recurrence of the tight-money policies which marked 1966 and sent interest rates to what then were record highs.

He asked for the surcharge to take effect for individuals last Oct. 1 and for corporations retroactive to last July 1.

But when Congress refused to act last year, the independent Federal Reserve Board did.

Its hand was forced by devaluation of the British pound last November. It raised the borrowing rate to 4.5 per cent to keep money on this side of the Atlantic. Still, the nation's money policy was relatively easy even then.

It wasn't until after Congress adjourned in December that the Federal Reserve moved deliberately toward a credit crackdown—and then in cautious and moderate maneuvers.

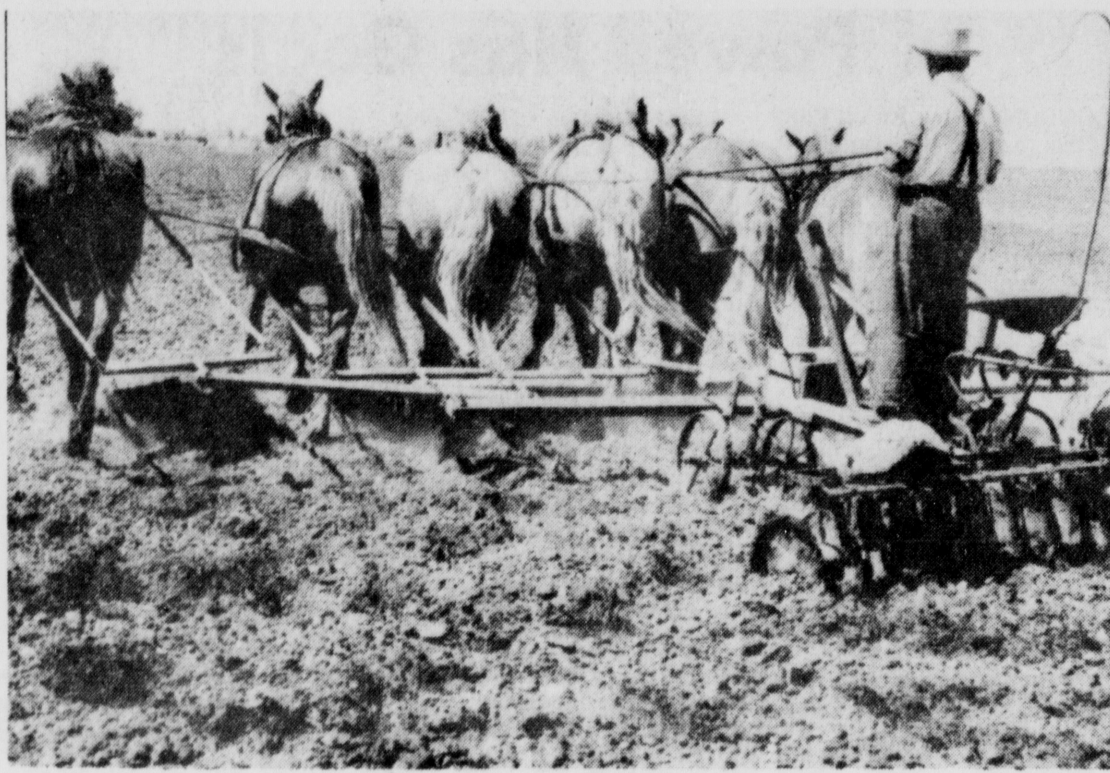

Last week's increase in the discount rate to 5.5 per cent was another step in that maneuvering to control inflation. This is the rate banks must pay when they borrow money from the Federal Reserve. Other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

Interest rates in some areas now surpass even their 1966 levels and the trend is still upward.

There's no guarantee that credit would ease immediately if taxes were raised, although this is assumed in some quarters. But with inflation running at a 4 per cent rate, it may take all the weapons in the arsenal to reverse the trend.

The government reported Tuesday the latest inflation index—of the $63 gain in average after-tax income during the first three months of the year, all but $29 was erased by inflation. This is per capita after-tax income at an annual rate.

Cling to Old Ways

No, it's not some nostalgic shot of grandfather tilling the soil back at the turn of the century. It's an Amish farmer driving a six-horse disking rig to ready his field for corn planting. The Arcola-Arthur, Ill., Amish farm settlement numbers several hundred people, who still cling to their ancient ways to till the soil. This scene is common as the Spring planting gets underway, where the horse is still king over the farm tractor. (UPI)

Not Sure VC Are Sincere

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the United States isn't sure whether North Vietnam's expressed willingness to hold preliminary peace contacts is a trick or not. The Washington Post reports.

"We don't know if it's just a ploy," The Post quoted Johnson as saying Tuesday night at the annual White House reception for foreign diplomats.

The Post also quoted Johnson as saying while chatting with a small group which included reporters:

"We talked today and we talked yesterday. There are some who think that if they were serious they wouldn't have suggested Warsaw" as a site for initial talks on peace negotiations.

Another source quoted Johnson as saying, "We are in contact with them. We spoke to them yesterday and today—and we will be in contact with them tomorrow. We don't know whether it's a ploy or not."

It wasn't immediately clear from the remarks attributed to Johnson whether he meant U.S. and North Vietnamese officials had been in face-to-face contact, or whether the two warring countries were exchanging messages through third parties, as they have done from time to time.

The Post, in reporting Johnson said he wasn't positive whether North Vietnam wanted talks, said the President then shrugged "as if he didn't know whether or not to agree."

The North Vietnamese Communist Party newspaper Nhan Dan meanwhile, accused the United States Tuesday of "perfidious maneuvers" and said the Vietnamese people "demand that the U.S. government stop delaying preliminary contacts and accept either Phnom Penh or Warsaw as the venue."

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed confidence in Paris that preliminary U.S.-North Vietnamese talks would get under way, "perhaps even this week."

U Thant told reporters the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, Warsaw, Paris or Geneva "are the cities where these preliminary talks could be held."

The United States has rejected Phnom Penh because Washington doesn't have diplomatic relations with Cambodia. And it has ruled out Warsaw because the Communist nation has aided North Vietnam.

Hanoi has written off Geneva and neither side has included Paris among the acceptable sites.

The Isle of Man is one of the British Isles but it is not an integral part of the United Kingdom.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell was in seclusion Monday at Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital preparing to undergo some tests.

Powell, who said Friday he was suffering from a minor prostate gland ailment, was admitted to the hospital Sunday, according to administrator Charles Nordwall.

"As of the moment he is simply going to undergo tests," Nordwall said. "I cannot predict what will occur." He said Powell's condition was listed as satisfactory.

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Elliott Gould, the husband of singer Barbra Streisand, was accused in criminal court Monday of ignoring 98 traffic summonses.

Gould was in court on a charge of illegally parking in a bus stop in front of his apartment building at 320 Central Park West.

The judge was told the patrolman who took down the license number checked it against a computer drawn list of unanswered traffic summonses and found the car was listed in 98 other alleged violations.

Gould was paroled for a hearing next month.

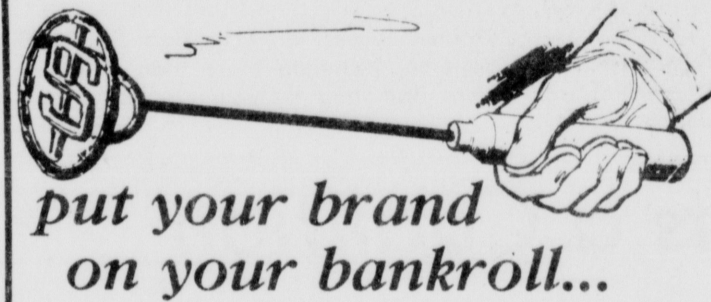

FRANKLIN, N.C. (AP) — Sir John Wedgewood paid a ceremonial visit Monday to the area where his great-great-grandfather found a rare white clay that helped make Wedgewood a famous name in pottery.

Accompanied by a host of international figures in the field of ceramic arts, the tall, blond English nobleman dedicated a bronze plaque in Franklin's town square.

Josiah Wedgewood, born in 1730 and who died in 1795, was the foremost English potter of his time, and the wares he turned out are now museum pieces and prized items in private collections.

Secrecy Surrounds Study

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has prevented publication of results of a $60,000 survey aimed at determining the attitudes of young Negroes toward military service and the National Guard.

National Guard officials, who commissioned the nationwide survey last year after criticism that the Guard had too few Negroes in its ranks, were ready to release its findings more than a week ago.

But Army authorities ordered them not to do so and directed that the report be stamped "for official use only."

Sources said certain top Army civilian officials apparently felt that releasing the survey as it might seem to point the finger at Negroes, since whites were not questioned in the survey.

Other sources said the survey turned up no appreciable Negro animosity against the Guard, but indicated a lack of awareness of it.

Asked for a copy of the report or a summary of its findings, the Army said: "The Army staff presently is studying a paper prepared by the National Guard Bureau with the assistance of a nongovernment research organization addressing public attitudes toward military service and the Guard.

"The paper is for official use only and not releasable to the public at this time because it is an internal communication."

The National Guard was strongly criticized on the question of Negro participation by both the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders and Cyrus R. Vance, who represented President Johnson in Detroit during the riot there last summer.

Both urged immediate steps to increase recruitment of Negroes.

There are some indications the report, or a version of it, may eventually be made public, possibly with some explanatory statement aimed at showing why just Negroes, and not whites, also, were surveyed.

Yankees Past Rough Spot On The High Road Home

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bill Monbouquette's smooth finishing touch has gotten the New York Yankees past the next-to-last rough spot on their high road home.

Monbouquette, a wily, 31-year-old craftsman, pitched eight innings of scoreless, two-hit relief Tuesday night as the Yankees cuffed the Oakland Athletics 6-3.

The victory was the fifth in six games on the road for the Yankees, who meet the A's again tonight before returning home for a four-game series against the torrid Detroit Tigers.

In the only other AL game played Tuesday night, Ken McMullen's three-run homer in the first inning powered the Washington Senators to a 3-1 victory over the California Angels. Three other games were postponed due to bad weather.

San Francisco whipped Philadelphia 7-1, the Chicago Cubs slugged Atlanta 10-4, St. Louis slipped past Cincinnati 4-2 in 10 innings and the New York Mets beat Houston 3-1 in National League games.

Monbouquette replaced Yankee starter Al Downing, who was making his first appearance of the year, in the second inning.

The Yankees had tagged right-hander Chuck Dobson for four unearned runs in the first inning. The A's countered with three off Downing in the bottom of the first.

Monbouquette, who lost his first start and then beat California 6-1 last Thursday with a route-going five-hitter, retired the first 11 and last 12 A's he faced. He struck out three, walked none and lowered his earned run average to 0.87 in 23 innings' work.

Two walks around an error by shortstop Ted Kubiak set the stage for New York's first inning burst. One run scored on Roy White's sacrifice fly, two more on a double by Bill Robinson and the fourth on a single by Jake Gibbs.

Gibbs and Monbouquette rapped run-scoring singles in the sixth, completing the Yankees' attack.

Bert Campaneris' single, doubles by Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando and a sacrifice fly by Mike Hershberger produced the three first inning runs for the A's, who have dropped five straight games.

McMullen's second homer of the season followed first inning singles by Del Unser and Hank Allen and pinned the loss on California southpaw George Brunet. Phil Ortega was the winner for the Senators with sixth inning relief help from Darold Knowles.

The Senators have won five of their last six—all on the road—while the Angels have lost six of eight.

Appleton Very Proud Of Koonsman

NEW YORK (AP) — The folks out in Appleton, Minn. must be very proud of young Jerry Koonsman these days. The big farm boy ranks among the pitching leaders with a perfect 3-0 record for the New York Mets.

The young left-hander's string of scoreless innings was broken at 21 Tuesday but he went all the way with a four-hitter against Houston and won 3-1 with the help of four errors by the Astros.

It was a chilly day and only 3,581 (third smallest crowd in Shea Stadium history) turned out for the afternoon game. It seemed as though there were that many newsmen in the home clubhouse, crowding around Koonsman after the game.

In case you haven't heard, Koonsman is the young man who was recommended to the Mets through an usher at the old Polo Grounds. Jerry's catcher at Fort Bliss, Tex., tipped off his father, the usher, and the Mets eventually grabbed a prize for $1,200.

Koonsman is 24 and married now. He lives in Morris, Minn. during the off season but his father still runs a 600-acre farm 11 miles north of Appleton.

Although Koonsman pitched semi-pro ball in Minnesota, he learned the trade at Fort Bliss where he had a 20-3 service record.

"Most of the clubs, except the (New York) Yankees and Washington were interested in me but only Minnesota and the Mets talked money," he said. "I finally signed with Red Murff (Met scout) for $1,200."

In his first start this season Koonsman shut out Los Angeles 4-0, on a four-hitter. In his second appearance he blanked San Francisco 3-0, striking out 10. He fanned 11 Astros Tuesday to make it three in a row.

The only run came in the fourth, driven in by Bob Aspromonte's double.

Sacred Heart Battles In Clinton Relays

Sacred Heart was one of 26 schools that battled for honors at the Clinton Relays, Tuesday. By virtue of fine showings by Martin Hogan and Earl Gerke the locals were able to take sixth place in the event.

Hogan led all individuals with first place medals in the 100 yard dash at :10.65 and the 440 with a :51.3, which broke his own school record. Gerke set a school record in earning a third place finish with a heave of 131 1/2" of the discus.

Hogan's other points came with a second place leap of 20 1/2" in the long jump and a :23.4 runner-up spot in the 220 yard dash.

In all the Gremlins were able to muster 19 points in the affair. Bill Heer's 2:08.3 half was good for sixth, while Ed Marino was able to finish ninth in a field of 23.

The Red and White will next take on St. Paul's of Concordia in a duel meet at Concordia, Thursday. It will serve as final tune-up for the Sacred Heart Track Carnival next Tuesday at Jennie Janyan Stadium.

S-C Varsity Golfers Win Over Kewpies

The varsity golf team of Smith-Cotton High School defeated the Columbia squad Monday afternoon with a total team score of 182-185. Medalist for the day's play was Rusty Johnson, S-C senior, with a nine-hole score of 32.

Other team scores were as follows: Keith Yount tied Bess of Columbia with a 34-34 score; George Dugan, Senior was defeated by Smith by a score of 35-36; Rusty Johnson, senior, downed Douglas by a 32-39 score; Bill Woolery, junior, lost to Stewart by a score of 38-39; and Fred Blum, senior, was defeated by Lewis by a score of 39-41.

Tuesday's varsity match with Mexico was canceled because of weather conditions. The "B" golf team plays host to Clinton today at Elm Hills Public Golf Course.

Foster McGuire is the Smith-Cotton golf coach.

Rough Night At Matches

The action was rough at the wrestling matches, Tuesday night, with Little Bruiser, a midget, being sent to the hospital, and later Nature Boy Kirby and Ronnie Etchison tangling in an unscheduled event after the final match was concluded. Kirby had started kicking Bobby Shane after winning their event, and made several passes at Referee Dick Moody, when Etchison rushed to the ringside to break it up.

In the feature Shane and Kirby, natural enemies of the ring tangled again. Shane won the first fall in 15 minutes and 10 seconds in his barrel roll and body press. The second fall ended in six minutes and 30 seconds, Shane the victim of a series of knee drops and press. The final fall went to Kirby who body slammed Shane, and threw him in to the corner ropes several times, the last sprawling Shane all over the mat and he pressed him for the fall in five minutes and 25 seconds.

As Shane lay prone on the mat, Kirby "heated up" began kicking him in the back, Moody moved in and tried shoving the big heavyweight aside. When Moody lost control, Etchison who was standing on the stage entered the ring, only to be caught by a hefty right swing from Kirby. That was it, Etchison who is now professional wrestler, a former Golden Glover, "uncorked" several on Kirby resulting in Kirby hurriedly disappearing from the ring, and Etchison challenging him every step.

The five-minute battle royal turned into a great show for the ringsiders and these little men were all over the ring and battling to keep from being pushed over the top rope. Wee Willie Wilson was the first out going over the top after three minutes and 20 seconds had passed; then Cowboy Lang was shoved over by three of the wrestlers after four minutes and 50 seconds. Next out was Mighty Atom who teamed with Little Bruiser in an attack on Lord Littlebrook. Trying something new and fancy, Atom got on Bruiser's shoulders to make a downward lunge at Littlebrook, but was caught in a bind when Littlebrook unbalanced Atom near the ropes and over he went and out, seven minutes and 30 seconds passed.

Littlebrook and Bruiser poured it on for the next few minutes and when Bruiser climbed the corner ropes, Littlebrook made a sly kick at him. Bruiser lost his balance and over the ropes he went hitting the apron of the ring and crashed head on to the hardwood floor. This ended the match after 11 minutes and five seconds, but Bruiser was hurt, he had received a severe injury at the top of his forehead.

Taken to the Bothwell Hospital, Dr. Stanley Fisher attended him and had to take 10 stitches to close the wound. He was warned not to wrestle for a time, to which Bruiser replied "I'm not going to work anymore this week."

A match between Etchison and Baron Von Heisinger, Munich, Germany, saw Etchison the winner in 10 minutes and 20 seconds using to an advantage a reverse shoulder press.

Two one-fall events between the midgets kept the fans in an uproar. Cowboy Lang defeated Mighty Atom in 10 minutes and 40 seconds of their scheduled 30-minute time limit match. A reverse shoulder press won for the Cowboy.

Wee Willie Wilson in his match with Lord Littlebrook was the winner of their 15-minute time limit event, pinning Littlebrook in nine minutes and 50 seconds using a series of back-flips and a press.

Give Up Competition

LONDON (AP) — Elizabeth Chadwick, Britain's top woman golfer, says she is giving up competition play because "love has destroyed my concentration."

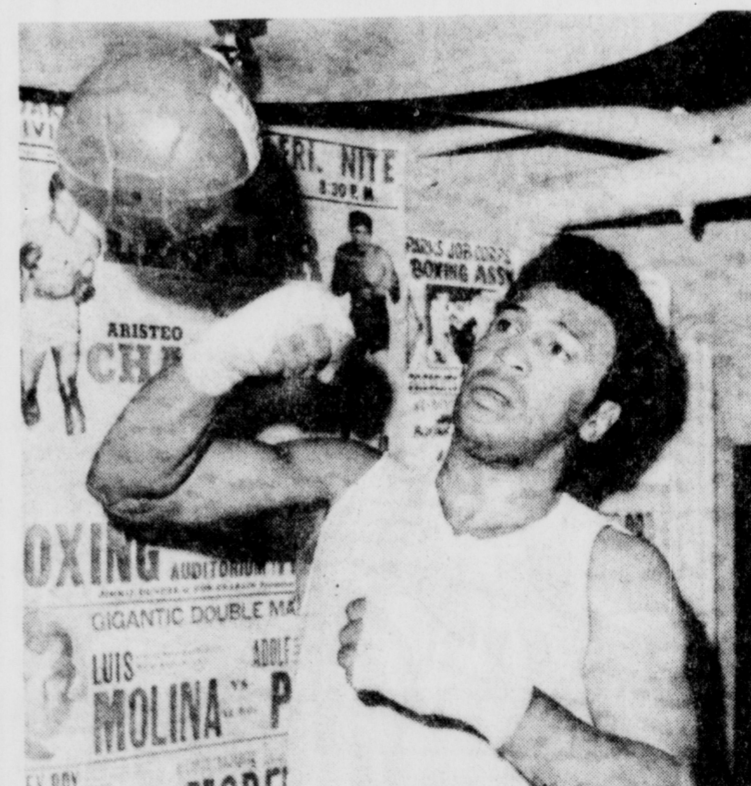

Elizabeth, 25, with a handicap of one, will become engaged to Tony Pook, a seven handicap man, next month.

"Top class golf requires 100 per cent concentration and I just can't give my mind fully to it any more," she said.

Three Holes-In-One

BEALLVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Three golfers scored holes-in-one Tuesday at the No. 11 hole at Nemacolin Country Club.

The rare feat on the par 3, 156-yard hole was accomplished by Nick Suwak of Washington, using a No. 3 iron; Charles Page of Smithton, using a No. 5 iron, and Guy Orlandi of Brownsville high school, using a No. 4 wood.

Giants Take the Phillies But Hurler Is Unhappy

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Juan Marichal moaned and Jim Davenport groaned, but nobody in the San Francisco locker room took them very seriously.

"I don't like to pitch in this cold weather," said Marichal of the 46-degree Philadelphia temperature as if the Giants had lost instead of beating the Phillies 7-1 Tuesday night. "It's tough to get loose and you can't sweat very good."

"I didn't figure I hit the grand-slam homer too good."

Lakers Figure Way To Offset John Havlicek

BOSTON (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers figure they have to find a way to offset the all-around play of John Havlicek tonight if they are to even their National Basketball Association final playoff series with the Boston Celtics.

"Our big problem is combating Havlicek's versatility," Laker Coach Bill Van Breda Kolff said Tuesday as his club worked out while awaiting the second game of the best-of-7 series.

One part of the problem is that Havlicek is equally at home in the front or backcourt. Another is that the tireless Celtics captain seems able to run full speed virtually the full 48 minutes.

Operating from his accustomed sixth man role during most of the regular season, Havlicek still logged more minutes than any other Celtic except player-coach Bill Russell while leading the team in scoring and assists.

Used as a starter during the playoffs, he has averaged 44 minutes per game in Boston's 13 games in the Eastern semi-finals and finals, leading the team by wide margins with a 25.3 point per game scoring average and 102 assists.

The former Ohio State star kept it up in Sunday's 107-101 opening victory over the Lakers, scoring 19 points and putting on another dazzling all-around performance.

The championship final playoff in the American Basketball Association resumes tonight with Pittsburgh at New Orleans. The best-of-7 series is tied 1-1.

said Davenport. But those four of his five runs batted in for the evening were not quite that easy to shrug off. At least not to the Phils.

Marichal's victory was his third of the season without a defeat. Of his last 80 victories, 79 have been complete games. Philadelphia had 10 hits off Marichal but couldn't do much with them.

In other National League games, St. Louis beat Cincinnati 4-2 in 10 innings. Chicago crushed Atlanta 10-4 and New York stopped Houston 3-1. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh were rained out.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped Oakland 6-3 and Washington downed California 3-1. Baltimore at Minnesota, Detroit at Cleveland and Boston at Chicago all were postponed because of bad weather.

Davenport's homer was his first of the season and the third with the bases full of his career.

Lou Brock's two-run homer in the 10th won for the Cardinals, who were trailing 2-0 going into the ninth. George Culver was hurling a four-hitter but was lifted after a walk and a single. Tony Perez' throwing error opened the gates for the tying runs.

The Cubs erupted for six runs in the fourth inning in a battle between Joe Niekro, the Chicago pitcher, and his brother Phil, who threw for the Braves.

"I didn't exactly outpitch him," said Joe of Phil. "I didn't have great stuff. He struck me out on four good knucklers and he shouldn't do that. He should give his little brother nothing but fastballs down the middle."

The Mets got another fine pitching performance from Jerry Koonsman, even though his shutout streak ended at 21 innings. The rookie gave up only four hits and struck out 11. The Mets took advantage of four Astros' errors to score the winning runs.

Bitter Battle Over Mexico Olympics Ends

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — The bitter 1968 Olympic controversy that threatened the Summer Games in Mexico City ended Tuesday when South Africa was officially voted out because of its racial policies.

A spokesman for the International Olympic Committee said at least 40 negative votes, four more than the required simple majority, had been received from IOC members, deciding South Africa's fate.

The result reversed an IOC decision by postal vote during the Winter Olympics seven weeks ago to allow South Africa to compete, and expected to satisfy some 40 nations who spoke of boycotting the Games if South Africa competed.

Mexico, faced with a crushing financial failure as host to the $86 million Games in October if a widespread boycott took place, breathed a sigh of relief at Tuesday's decision. But it left South Africa embittered.

The Lausanne decision is illegal, immoral and unconstitutional," said Frank Braun, president of the South African Olympic Committee. He called it a "shocking rebuff."

South Africa was barred from the 1964 Games for the same reason, but the IOC, led by President Avery Brundage, voted her back in at Grenoble, France, last February.

South Africa had promised to field an integrated team that would live and travel together, but protesting countries still complained of her apartheid policy of strict segregation and that Negroes would not receive an equal chance to make the team.

Trade Phil Regan

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers traded reliever Phil Regan and former major league outfielder Jim Hickman to the Chicago Cubs Tuesday for pitcher Jim Ellis and outfielder Ted Savage.

Use of Styrofoam Trays Ideal for These Items

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am answering Nina R., the Cub Scout den mother, who requested ways to use foam trays that meat comes in from the market. Cut one tray in half and place on top of an uncut tray, bottom sides facing out. Sew around the two trays with knitting yarn, holding the two pieces together. Paste a colorful picture to the front of the cut tray. Make a loop to attach to the top of the other tray and have a handy note-holder to hang on the wall. A nice gift for the boys to make for their mothers.—ANNE, another Den mother.

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Nina R. that my Cub Scouts made spears and tomahawks with foam meat trays. They counted as an elective as well as being harmless to play with. We cut a pattern in the shape of a spear and one in the shape of a tomahawk head. I got some bamboo poles from a carpet store, cut them to the desired length, made a slit about one-inch-long in one end of each pole, then painted them black. Cut two heads for each weapon and glue them together but do not use airplane glue as we found it melts the styrofoam. Spray the heads silver. Press heads into the slits in the poles and they get plenty of wind can harm them and they get plenty of noon day sun. Leave these cartons on for the rest of the season as they protect the fruit or vegetable from touching the ground. Cartons could also be cut in half to give you two for one.—EDNA

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer is for early gardeners. Save those empty round oatmeal cartons as they make excellent protectors for tender tomato and pepper plants. Take out the bottom and remove the top of the carton and place over the plant. No wind can harm them and they get plenty of noon day sun. Leave these cartons on for the rest of the season as they protect the fruit or vegetable from touching the ground. Cartons could also be cut in half to give you two for one.—EDNA

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I once saw a pretty basket made out of old Christmas cards. I find not only Christmas but birthday and other greeting cards too pretty to throw away so would like to make one of those baskets. If one of the readers knows how to make such a basket I would appreciate getting the instructions.—SHIRLEY

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — American cities with large nonwhite populations are making slow progress in their efforts to increase the number of Negro policemen.

In many places where racial tensions are significant, determined recruiting campaigns have been carried on for years.

But except for Chicago, where one policeman in four is a Negro, and Philadelphia, where Negroes comprise a fifth of the uniformed force, results have been largely disappointing, an Associated Press survey shows.

President Johnson's Commission on Civil Disorders declared in a report made public Feb. 29 that, "The abrasive relationship between the police and the ghetto community has been a major — and explosive — source of grievance, tension and disorder."

As a partial remedy, the commission urged the widespread recruitment of Negroes to police densely populated Negro districts in urban communities.

But police departments in general say they have found hiring Negroes to be easier said than done.

The New York City police department has been trying for a long time to increase the proportion of uniformed Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Recruiting teams including Negroes and whites have combed the Negro areas for prospects. High school dropouts have been encouraged to take special courses offered by the public schools so they can meet the required educational minimums.

Police department instructors have provided coaching courses to help recruits pass the civil service examinations.

Even so, the Guardian Society, an organization of New York Negro police officers, reports a current membership of only 1,365. Total strength of the city police department is 28,788.

The two highest-ranking Negroes in the department are assistant chief inspectors, receiving $19,231 a year.

The New York police department is reticent about why Negroes and Puerto Ricans are reluctant to join up.

But Lt. Edwin Nagorski of the Cleveland, Ohio, police community relations department said, with reference to his city:

"The policeman has a negative image among Negroes and this still has to be overcome."

Cleveland began active recruitment of Negro policemen in 1965. It still has only 160 of them in a force of 2,200, up a mere 40 in the past two years.

The community relations unit of the Seattle, Wash., police department, which has only nine Negroes on a uniformed force of approximately 1,000, has been recruiting for months, with virtually no success.

"I had three Negroes ready to come to work," comments Police Chief Frank Ramon. "When it became known in their neighborhoods, they were called 'Uncle Toms' and they backed off."

A department spokesman says most Newark Negroes, including those who could qualify for uniforms, simply don't like policemen.

"The cop is 'Whitey' and all that means to the Negro community," the spokesman says.

Detroit, another 1967 riot scene, has been recruiting Negroes for the past five years, yet has only 244 on a force totaling 4,460.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh says, "We will mount within the next month a massive recruiting campaign to increase the percentage of Negro officers in the department."

Special teams will be organized to recruit at Detroit factory gates, at neighborhood centers, military bases, and the campuses of small Negro colleges throughout the country.

In 1965, before the riots in the Watts district, Los Angeles had 165 Negro officers. Today there are 228 on a force of 5,485.

Negroes who want to join the Los Angeles force are encouraged to file their applications at neighborhood precinct stations, which saves them the trip to downtown headquarters. Negro applicants are given every encouragement. In a single week early in April, there were 10 Negro applicants and all were accepted.

No Negro in the Los Angeles department holds a rank higher than lieutenant.

Boston, with a police force of 2,500, has only 53 Negroes. The highest rank held by any of them is sergeant. Mayor Kevin H. White, elected last autumn, has asked the state legislature to set up a police cadet program designed to attract more black applicants.

The Baltimore police department has been seeking qualified Negroes since 1966, sending recruitment vans into Negro areas, advertising in newspapers and using billboards and spot radio announcements.

At present the department has only 288 Negroes in a uniformed force of 3,025.

Capt. Marvin Leonard, information officer for the New Orleans police force, says Negroes in that city "either don't want to become policemen or they are not qualified."

New Orleans began hiring Negro policemen 10 years ago, and has about 80 on a force of 1,400.

Leonard says, "We have sent people into Negro areas trying to encourage them to apply. We have visited Army posts. We go to the universities."

The Dallas, Tex., police department has a Negro recruiting officer who spends most of his time in Black communities and schools. Each Sunday he gives a civil service examination to applicants who are busy at work on week days.

Dallas hired its first Negro policeman in 1948. Today it has 15 Negroes on a force of 1,472.

Buffalo, N.Y., which has experienced a number of racial disorders in recent years, has 34 Negro patrolmen on a force of 886. A police department administrator said few Negro applicants could meet civil service standards, including a high school diploma.

The Philadelphia police department, whose Negro recruit-

STILL ROLLING in spite of a stepped-up civilization, the West Chester, Pa., wagon wheel plant of Hoopes Brothers and Darlington Inc. turns out about 1,200 wooden wagon wheels a month. In its 102 years, the factory has produced wheels for the royal coach of Louis Napoleon; field artillery caissons used in the Spanish-American War and World War I; and circus wagons. Today, most of its business comes from the Amish, who still use wagons and buggies, and demands for replacement wheels on antiquated or restored vehicles. In top photos are two long-time employees: Clarence Trego, left, and Charles Gincley, who form part of the 15-man labor force. Hubs and spokes, above, frame a portion of the century-old plant which continues to use some of the original machinery already spoken for by representatives of the Smithsonian Institution.

Affirmative Action Needed

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says the United States should concentrate on "affirmative action to meet human needs throughout the world" and called for building "peaceful bridges" to Communist China.

In a broad survey of foreign policy apparently anticipating his entry into the Democratic presidential race later this week, Humphrey said the United States need not apologize for the ways it has used its power.

On the subject of his possible candidacy, he said later that he "thinks" he will seek the nomination. "I think so," he said. "I think everything will fall out right."

Humphrey's speech marked his first extended essay on foreign affairs since President Johnson announced March 31 that he would not seek re-election. He did not include a defense of the Johnson administration war policies.

The vice president did tell the annual awards dinner of the Overseas Press Club that the nation must honor its commitments and stand up against armed aggression.

"We must do our part to protect world security by maintaining whatever strength is necessary to meet our commitments to the U.N. charter and the regional treaties to which we are signatory," he said.

"But we are also obliged to concentrate on the arts of peace. Through affirmative action to meet human needs, we can build security and peace," Humphrey said.

"I look forward to the day when the great Chinese people, no longer victimized from within, take their place in the modern world," he said.

"Surely one of the most exciting and enriching experiences to which we can look forward is the building of peaceful bridges to the people of mainland China."

"I believe the power of the free idea will in time infiltrate mainland China—as it has infiltrated and is infiltrating the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe."

BUSINESS NEWS

KANSAS CITY — Rival Manufacturing Co., manufacturer of electric and non-electric housewares, reports record sales and earnings for the first quarter ended March 31, 1968. Sales were $5,554,645 compared with $4,752,997 for the comparable quarter of 1967. Net income was $454,507 as against $411,522 earned in the first quarter of 1967.

Assuming full conversion of the company's 6 per cent convertible note outstanding at the end of the period, 1968 earnings per share would be 91 cents on the 508,758 shares which would then be outstanding. This compares with 73 cents on the 584,016 shares which would have been outstanding, assuming full conversion, at the end of the first quarter of 1967.

Based on present indications, the company looks for 1968 to be another year of solid progress.

To Package Garbage

CHICAGO (AP) — City officials announced plans Monday for a pilot program to produce up to 500 tons of packaged garbage daily this summer. The garbage, which will be compressed into compact 500-pound bales, is expected to be coated with plastic, concrete or asphalt for possible use as landfill or lakefill.

No Real Unity Seen

TOKYO (AP) — "I can only conclude that race relations in America are at a critical turning point," a Japanese sociologist studying in Illinois has reported to Tokyo readers.

In a story in the Tokyo newspaper Asahi, Kenichi Tominaga asked: "Is there anything to do to temper the tension that exists between white liberals who with good will try to understand black people who assert that good will is deception?"

Tominaga, an assistant professor of sociology at Tokyo University, is doing research on management-labor relations at the University of Illinois. He reported on a memorial assembly at the university for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

After the assembly, he wrote, Negro students "jumped on the platform and started shouting and making speeches to the effect that the assembly was an epitome of deception and that the rapport between blacks and whites is, after all, a dream."

"There is no question," Tominaga added, "that white mourners detested the terrorist act of a killer—or killers—and admired the act and thought of the late civil rights leader. There was no deception in the sorrow and sympathy expressed by the whites."

"But the black students could in no way appreciate the sympathy, sorrow and shattered sentiments equally felt by the whites."

"There is in the psychological makeup of the Negro students a belief that whatever the white students and professors say and feel and think is simply a gesture of guilt-ridden sympathy and therefore a deception.

"I learned that although the blacks and whites seem to be integrated and seem to have established a line of communication on the campus, they are poles apart if, agitated by a tragic stroke of events, they meet as a group," Tominaga said.

Lawsuit Is Ousted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A professor's $4.92 law suit challenging the legality of the Vietnam war has been dismissed in U.S. District Court.

Donald Kalish of the University of California at Los Angeles contended the $4.92 excise tax on a telephone bill was used to support an unconstitutional war.

Judge Warren Ferguson told Kalish that courts are the "worst place in the world" to decide political issues, and said they should be left to Congress.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant is going to send a representative to look into the welfare and security of Arab civilians in territory occupied by Israel in the 1967 war.

Israel's agreement to the mission, disclosed Monday, was based on the understanding that Thant's representative would be restricted to fact finding and would also check on the situation of Jews in Arab countries that participated in the war.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — The new Czechoslovak government says it will not talk with West Germany about establishing diplomatic relations until the Bonn government recognizes East Germany.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest and a Protestant told a church-sponsored economic conference today that nations must make "drastic changes in policy" and adopt programs to slow population growth.

Their report said that otherwise, because of food shortages, "millions of children will grow up permanently impaired in intelligence and energy and without opportunities for a fully human life."

The conference is sponsored by the Vatican and the World Council of Churches. The report on population control was made by Dr. Richard Fagley, American secretary of the World Council's Commission on International Affairs, and Rev. Arthur McCormack, a British priest on the staff of the Vatican's Pontifical Commission on Justice and Peace.

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command, protesting four Communist attacks in the demilitarized zone since April 14, told North Korea today the command "will not be provoked into aggressive actions to counter your aggressions."

But U.S. Rear Adm. John V. Smith warned that "our restraint should not be mistaken for weakness." Smith appealed to the North Koreans to cooperate to ease tension and preserve peace in Korea.

At the 168th meeting of the Korean Military Armistice Commission, Smith protested the four North Korean attacks killed three American and five South Korean soldiers. He said at least four North Koreans were killed in the incidents.

Considers Duty 'Sacred'

By ISAAC M. FLORES
Associated Press Writer
LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Antonio de Oliveira Salazar starts his 80th year Saturday, just a day after he begins his 40th year at the head of the last remaining colonialist dictatorship.

A 1926 military revolt overthrew a republican regime and created the country's present estado novo, or new state. It is this concept which the prime minister has used to fashion the longest tenure of any of the world's active political leaders.

A nonsmoking, nondrinking bachelor, Salazar is determined to live out his days in what he considers the "sacred duty" of serving his country.

There is no discussion within the official Portuguese establishment about a possible successor, and very little outside it.

Even the regime's so-called opposition — composed of several hundred lawyers, writers, former military men and some intellectuals — has no one particular candidate it agrees upon.

The country's 130,000-men armed forces and secret police organization will have a big say about a successor: most of their leaders are considered to be dedicated and loyal to the Salazar policy of a strongly controlled "corporate state."

"Only the names will change," says a veteran diplomat. "Oh, there will be some shuffling around and probably some sharp disputes among those striving for power, but on the whole one can look for a Salazar-type government for a number of years after the old man goes."

After that, what? For one thing, there may be a modification of Portugal's adamant position in regard to its colonies.

Portugal's African territories of Angola and Mozambique are the key to its economy. The country would perish without them, Salazar says.

The stocky, white-haired premier lives an ascetic, austere life. He spends most of each day poring over state papers, conferring with his ministers and scribbling in longhand in large notebooks, to be used in drafting infrequent speeches or in ponderous philosophical books on the art of running a country.

The son of an innkeeper father and peasant mother, Salazar studied for the priesthood, but gave it up to attend Coimbra University, where at 25 he became a law professor and later taught economics.

At the age of 39, he became the country's most important figure, as finance minister attempting to solve the country's economic crisis brought on by years of revolution, political killings, terrorism and graft which followed after the monarchy was abolished in 1910.

He took over the premiership in 1932, but he had been the nation's virtual ruler since he assumed the Finance Ministry in 1928.

Salazar had promised then to bring the country out of financial chaos if given a free hand; and he did so by slashing expenses and balancing the budget. It has remained in the black ever since.

Local Club Tours Paper

The Hopewell Homemakers Club recently toured the Sedalia Democrat-Capitol Building.

Those present for the tour were: Mrs. Robert Ramey, president; Mrs. Dale Rhoads, vice president; Mrs. Ronnie Blaylock, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Frank L. Mahalovich, Mrs. Fred Kinsey, Mrs. Charles Blaylock, Mrs. William H. Ficken, Mrs. Henry Holman, Mrs. Donna DeWitt, Mrs. Mark Cullen, Mrs. Ben Townsend, Mrs. Claude Siron, Brent Short, Julie Townsend.

Following the newspaper tour the group planned to tour Kim Originals and Convention Hall.

Completed the Job

OJAI, Calif. (AP) — Cattle thieves not only slaughtered and butchered a calf in this ranching area during the weekend but they also stole a barbecue to cook it on, the sheriff's office said.

"Only Salazar is right," is his philosophy.

He rules a paradoxical land. While it has advanced markedly in the past five years, Portugal still has the lowest standard of living and the highest illiteracy rate in Western Europe. Its currency is one of the world's most stable, and it has a favorable balance of payments situation and $1.2 billion in gold and foreign exchange reserves, but it is years behind neighbor Spain in economic growth.

Salazar kept the country out of World War II but it has been involved in a guerrilla war all its own for seven years—in Africa.

Portugal also holds Macao on the China mainland, the island of Timor in the Pacific and the islands of Sao Tome, Madeira and the Azores in the Atlantic.

This country of nine million rules a domain more than 23 times its size, and most critics concede it will probably continue to do so for quite some time — under the policies of its "benevolent dictator."

AP Members Re-Elect Directors

NEW YORK (AP) — The members of The Associated Press have re-elected two directors and elected five new ones.

The election Monday at the annual membership meeting of the worldwide cooperative newsgathering organization was to fill the seats of six directors whose terms on the 18-member board had expired and to fill a vacancy caused by death.

Otis Chandler of the Los Angeles Times, who was re-elected with a vote of 9,344, led the balloting. Second in the balloting was James S. Copley of the San Diego Union, who was re-elected with a vote of 9,206.

Also in the general category voting, Richard C. Steele, of the Worcester, Mass., Telegram and Sunday Telegram, was elected with 7,431 votes; Thomas Vail, of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, 7,162 votes; and J. Kelly Sisk, of the Greenville, S.C., Piedmont, 5,854.

There were five other nominees in this category.

J.M. McClelland Jr., of the Longview, Wash., Daily News, was elected director for a city of less than 50,000 population. He received 7,157 votes to 4,401 for James S. Lyon of the Washington, Pa., Observer-Reporter.

J. Howard Wood of the Chicago Tribune was elected a director to succeed the late Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Wood received 6,513 votes to 3,182 for Jack Tarver of the Atlanta Constitution.

Wood will serve the two unexpired years of Amberg's term. The other directors chosen will serve three-year terms.

In the general category there were these nominees in addition to those elected: Houston H. Harte of the San Antonio, Tex. News, 5,707 votes; Stanley H. Stauffer of the Topeka, Kan., Daily Capital, 5,160; J.W. Gallivan of the Salt Lake City, Utah, Tribune, 3,508; Norman D. Black Jr. of the Fargo, N.D., Forum, 2,203; and Fred B. Wachs of the Lexington, Ky., Herald, 2,168.

Two members retired from the board—Robert McLean of the Philadelphia Evening and Sunday Bulletin, and Frank A. Daniels of the Raleigh, N.C., Times.

McLean, who had served as a director for 44 years and as AP president for 19 years, was eligible for renomination as a former president, but he declined. Daniels, also eligible, requested that he not be renominated.

Gold Bond Stamp Founder Began During Depression

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — A few months after Curtis Carlson was graduated from the University of Minnesota, right into the Great Depression, he formed his own company. A year later he quit his job as a soap salesman to run it.

Now, 30 years later, Carlson is a one-man conglomerate, still based in Minneapolis but doing $158 million of business a year in the United States, Canada, Europe, the Caribbean and Japan. His goal is $300 million by 1973.

"It's a lot easier to make money if you've got it," said this expert on the subject, who now is president of 15 companies, director of 7 more and trustee or director of 8 civic or business organizations.

Since he has been so busy working, because he has concentrated his efforts mostly in Minneapolis-based companies and because his companies are closely held by him, he is surprisingly little known outside the Midwest.

His honors reflect this. Recently, for example, he was named "outstanding graduate" of the University of Minnesota, and in 1966, in recognition of his success and his parentage, was selected "Swede of the year" at Minneapolis.

None of these labels identifies Carlson, however, for unknown to most housewives and other Americans, he is often regarded as the man who hooked women on a habit they seem unwilling or unable to kick.

This is the stamp habit, which now occupies some part of the day for about 50 million women, who save them, lick them, paste them in books and redeem them for about $1 billion of goods each year.

Although Carlson personally owns hotel-motel properties and has outdoor advertising interests in Iowa, Ohio, Indiana and North Carolina, his main business, and his oldest, is Gold Bond Stamp Co., the firm he founded at age 24.

Ever since then he has been selling incentives designed to move goods. He personally manages his businesses and, in fact, only recently stepped down as sales manager. "I consider myself a peddler," he says.

To believe Carlson — and when he paces a room gesticulating, his voice calm but convincing. It is difficult not to listen to him — is to believe that stamps never will go out of style.

They give housewives incentives in shopping. With processing technology, government regulations, packaging restrictions, advertising codes and price competition tending to eliminate differences in products, stamps give something extra, he maintains.

Carlson also maintains the stamp companies stock only merchandise that women would buy for cash anyway. Rather than carrying the entire line of a brand, as many stores do, redemption stamps "cherry-pick" only the most desirable items in the line, Carlson explains.

Efficiency or not, a dilemma still exists in the minds of most people about the contention of Carlson and others that stamps pay for themselves.

If they constitute a gift or two cents for every dollar spent, then somebody must bear the cost. The answer generally given by stamp people is that volume attracted from other stores pays the cost. Perhaps, but what happens when every store in the neighborhood gives stamps?

Regardless of arguments, Carlson now has been expanding operations into coupons affixed directly to all kinds of merchandise and which can be redeemed for cash or combined with trading stamps and redeemed for more merchandise.

The reasons for Carlson's confidence that his massive, diversified operations will continue to grow are these:

"I have more money now than I did five years ago. I employ more brains now. And I can hire better personnel and afford not to lose old people if they are good."

Bunceton Lions Club Elects New Officers

Walter Roehrs was elected president of the Bunceton Lions Club at the annual election held Monday night. Roehrs served as club secretary for the past year. New officers will take office July 1 with a formal installation to be announced at a later date.

The retiring president, Jennings McKee, was elected to a two year term as director, along with Wilbur Toellner.

Reactivated Volcano

Mt. Mayon, a 8,284-foot volcano about 200 miles southeast of Manila, belches smoke and spills volcanic ash down its slope. It was reported that southern Luzon was rocked by six pre-dawn eruptions as Mt. Mayon came fully to life after 21 years. Although lava reportedly streamed from the cone in at least two directions the volcanology commission reported no loss of life. Much of the region near the base of the volcano has already been evacuated. (UPI)

Partial Success

PRAGUE (AP) — How much democracy can communism absorb and still remain communism?

After four months of experimenting, Czechoslovakia's model of "Socialist democratization" seems to be near the saturation point. And that point seems very remote from Western concepts of parliamentary democracy.

The country's new leaders say the experiment is far from finished, the pendulum of political reorientation is still swinging, there is not yet any definitely discernible pattern.

But some of the basic elements of communism are to remain unchanged. The Communist party considers itself the "leading force of society." Non-Communist parties are allowed to exist — provided they support the "Socialist cause."

Party chief Alexander Dubcek and his reformers, whose ideas vary from extreme to moderate, have achieved changes yet some ideas are no longer the same as they were a few weeks ago at the height of Czechoslovakia's "quiet revolution."

The changes were imposed from above — to check a growing groundswell of dissatisfaction before the flood could no longer be held back. The press, fettered during two decades of Stalinism and post-Stalinist oppression, suddenly seemed as free as its Western counterparts in criticizing the party and its leaders.

The pressure of public opinion was tremendous — and soon it began to create counterpressure in the form of thinly veiled warnings not to indulge in "sensationalism," not to condemn everything that had happened in the past because there still were a few honest people left and a few good things the party had achieved.

The secret police have all but disappeared from everyday life. People no longer are afraid to speak their mind. Promises have been made of justice, a better life and travel to the West, and the people now wait for the regime to deliver.

Youngsters Recover Almost 700 Eggs

Flat Creek 4-H Club held its annual Easter Egg Hunt and party at 1:30 p.m. April 13 at Anderson School.

Each 4-H member was required to bring two dozen eggs and approximately 700 eggs were hidden by the older children, with almost every one recovered. Two silver eggs were also hidden with the finders receiving prizes. The 75 guests, which were mainly children, were served assorted candies and ice cream.

Citizen Again

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek military government announced it has reinstated the citizenship of Amalia Fleming, 57, widow of the discoverer of penicillin, Alexander Fleming. She had become a British citizen by marriage and applied months ago to become a Greek citizen again.

FIRST IN LINE for a roller coaster ride, this deer wandered across the frozen bay at Sandusky, Ohio, and took up residence at a Cedar Point amusement center. Warmer weather has increased activity in the area, but the animal has shown no signs of leaving, posing a problem for local police. Near Agreement On an Income Tax Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees are reported near agreement on a proposed income tax boost—spending cut package—but details aren't expected to be hammered out until at least mid-May.

Sources reported what they termed an agreement in principle among the conferees—an apparently small step since much remains to be settled but a major move in view of the fact that tax hike has been stalled on dead center since President Johnson proposed it about a year ago.

Johnson asked a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes. Congress has been demanding a sizeable cut in federal spending as its price for boosting taxes.

The Senate already has passed a bill providing the 10 per cent surcharge and a $6 billion spending cut, but the House wants to present its own version of the legislation. The conference committee is charged with coming up with a compromise satisfactory to both houses.

Johnson returned Monday to Washington after his 10-day Texas vacation and Hawaii conference. He immediately made plans to meet with legislative leaders, and a renewed appeal from him for the tax bill seemed a likely topic.

ABWA Holds District Meeting At Wichita

The South-Central District Meeting of the American Business Women's Association was held April 19, 20 and 21 at Wichita, Kan. Members of the Sedalia Chapter, AB+WA, attending were: Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, president, Mrs. Beulah Jones, Mrs. Della Gasperson, Miss Ella Peithman, Miss Mary Merritt, Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn, Mrs. Josephine Cross, Miss Margaret Bohon and Mrs. Mary Maddox.

One of the Sedalia group, Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn, was honored by being recognized as a member of the "Inner Circle," for which special recognition was also given at the Sunday morning brunch. Margie Drennan, national president, was the speaker at the brunch.

Shelters for Planes Would Save Expense

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler says the enemy has destroyed or damaged $132.5 million in U.S. aircraft on the ground in Vietnam—a toll he contends could have been drastically cut by use of shelters.

Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told inquiring senators that special protective shelters now proposed for European-based U.S. planes could have held these plane and helicopter losses in Vietnam to about $7 million.

The Pentagon has decided against providing anything more than side-walled barricades, with no roofs, for aircraft in Vietnam because the enemy doesn't operate bombers over the South.

Wheeler said the total cost of aircraft wiped out by hostile ground fire between Jan. 1, 1964 and Feb. 9, 1968 amounted to $94,033,000.

This included 122 planes and helicopters destroyed by enemy mortars, recoilless rifles, satchel charges or small-arms fire, Wheeler said.

In addition, 590 other planes and helicopters were damaged in 1966 and 1967, requiring $38.5 million in repairs, he said.

Wheeler also disclosed that during the major thrust of the Viet Cong's Tet holiday offensive last Jan. 29-Feb. 1, U.S. air units suffered heavily.

In an estimate drawn up during the first week of February, he figured the enemy destroyed 38 aircraft, including 15 planes and 23 helicopters, dealt major damage to 154 others—32 planes and 122 choppers—and caused minor damage to 198 craft—53 planes and 145 helicopters.

The Pentagon is seeking congressional approval this year to spend about $17.3 million on building 60 steel-and-concrete aircraft shelters at NATO facilities in Europe.

Congress has previously balked at this idea on grounds the United States would be building fixed installations in Europe when there is some pressure for bringing American forces home.

Steiger Calm About His 'Oscar'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Sure, I wanted to win. But you don't go to the Academy Awards expecting to win. If you did, then you should take a pistol in your pocket so you can shoot your brains out if you lose."

Now that the Oscar fever has died down, Rod Steiger was able to achieve some perspective on the movie world's top prize. His award as best actor of 1967 for "In the Heat of the Night" brought him unmistakable joy, but it hasn't overwhelmed him.

"Maybe that's because of a mature judgment that comes with age," said Steiger, who turned 43 on Easter Sunday. "Maybe I was still thinking that I should have gotten the Oscar for 'The Pawnbroker.'"

Grateful as he is for "In the Heat of the Night," he still considers "The Pawnbroker" a greater challenge.

"It was the toughest role I ever attempted," said the actor. "After all, here was a man who spent most of his time trying to avoid communication with other people. He replied in monosyllables and wouldn't look at the person he was talking to. It was a real challenge to make the character interesting, not boring."

Steiger had to wait a year for his triumph; his role as the embittered victim of Nazi brutality was passed up by the academy for Paul Scofield's Sir Thomas More in "A Man for All Seasons."

The Oscar has its distinct advantages, aside from ego satisfaction, Steiger admitted. "The main thing is the selection of scripts," he said. "I'm now getting first chance at scripts that never would have been offered to me a year or two ago."

His current film is an example. He plays the title role in Warner Brothers' "The Illustrated Man." It is Steiger's most strenuous role, requiring eight-hour sessions in the make-up department while his entire body is painted with tattoo-like figures.

Success stories are written when talent and opportunity converge. Steiger figures that happened for him when he played the television version of "Marty." Because of his performance, Elia Kazan selected him for "On the Waterfront," which won Steiger an academy nomination and launched his film career.

But for his own stubborn independence, Steiger might have received his Oscar earlier. He was sought for the film version of "Marty," but lost it because he refused to sign an exclusive contract with the producers. Ernest Borgnine won the role and an Oscar—and then spent a half-million dollars to extricate himself from his contract.

Sluggish Get-Away

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carrying nearly $100 and leaping out of the window of a tavern, a burglar made a sluggish get-away from two pursuing policemen.

The loot was all in coins. After a three-block chase Sunday, the officers arrested Robert Willis, 25, on suspicion of burglary.

Tartaric Wolf Pups

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Three rare tartaric wolf puppies have been born at Tulsa's Mohawk Park Zoo. Mohawk officials said they believe the coal black pups are the first of the breed to be born at a U.S. zoo. The breed usually is found in Eurasia and Pakistan.

Bicycle Bouncing Back

Sedalia motorists are seeing the renewal of bicycle activity on the streets — and sidewalks too!

The development, like the popping out of leaves and flowers, is conditioned by arrival of milder weather and the urge of youngsters to go somewhere on errands, or for fun. We don't know what the bike population of Sedalia is, but a statistic tells us there are now a record number of more than 30 million bicycles in America. This compares with nearly 100 million automobiles on the highways, according to the American Road Builders Association which also expresses an interest in bicycles apparently because it evolved from the League of American Wheelmen which was organized back in the muddy, rutted days of 1880 to battle for good roads and bicycle sidepaths.

Subsequently in the early 1900's when the automobiles came onto the scene, hard times fell on the production of both bikes and horses. But after all these years the bike is bouncing back, we are told, consequently a demand is growing for safe bikeways. These are routes usually parallel to main streets and leading to and from schools, recreation areas and points of scenic interest. A potential for something like that on smaller scales in the local area presents itself to keep pleasure riders off the streets if and when the demand for such a convenience occurs.

The first bikeway of record in recent times was dedicated in 1962 in Homestead, Fla. Chicago was the first large city to try the idea. Its bikeway covers 15 miles of lakefront paths and is used by an estimated 10,000 bicyclists every day.

The nation's longest bikeway begins at LaCrosse, Wis., and leads for 320 miles to the shore of Lake Michigan. These are usually marked by a Bureau of Public Roads approved sign in white and green.

And would you believe it, the federal government is getting into the act! In 1966, the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation granted some $367,000 to 12 urban areas to help them get bikeways started. There are now plans for nearly 200,000 miles of bike path development.

No wonder the League of American Wheelmen is pedaling again — out of headquarters in Chicago. Maybe they will get out to Central Missouri some of these days.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Germs Are Major Enemy in Vietnam

DREW PEARSON and JACK ANDERSON
WASHINGTON — Nature is waging germ warfare against both sides in Vietnam, and some of the germs are beginning to infiltrate into the United States.

Half the GIs in our battlefield hospitals are sent there by microbes and parasites, not enemy bullets. And the Viet Cong, without proper inoculations and sanitary facilities, often living in swamps and forests, are even more vulnerable to these diseases than are Americans.

The germs thrive in the dank cities and the hot, humid countryside where our troops are stationed. With half-a-million servicemen rotating through Vietnam each year, the contagious diseases and exotic fevers of Asia can easily be transported to America.

Our troops pick up these diseases merely from sloshing through the rice paddies or rustling through the tall elephant grass. The Guerrillas who are killed may be more deadly dead than alive. Their bodies may be ridden with diseases, ready to transfer to the unwary visitors.

Malaria and hepatitis are rampant. Tetanus, typhus and tuberculosis have increased. More than 38,000 cholera cases were reported between 1965 and 1968. And Navy doctors estimate that 30 per cent of the prostitutes in Vietnam have venereal disease.

Even the dreaded plague, the scourge of medieval times, has struck an estimated 7,000 people during the past two years. Other diseases, so rare that their causes are unknown, keep appearing. Moreover, medical research indicates that all of them seem to be more virulent in Vietnam than in most places.

— Terrifying Export —
Despite every precaution, these diseases clearly are being exported. Plague infection has been discovered in the rodents and fleas at every major port and airfield in Vietnam. In recent weeks, the terrifying disease has suddenly appeared in two coastal towns in Indonesia.

Plague is found in rats that live around human habitation, and is transmitted by flea bites. More than 95 per cent of the world's plague cases have been discovered in Vietnam, and all six of the disease's varieties have been found in 27 of the 47 provinces.

Fortunately, only 10 suspected cases have been detected among the GIs who are inoculated against plague. Yet the infected rats and fleas at Vietnam's harbors and airports could spread the disease around the world if they managed to slip aboard departing ships and planes.

The authorities, of course, are alert to the danger. There is constant rat surveillance at all debarkation points. Ships are required to fasten rat guards to the great cables that fasten the vessels to the docks. So rats can't scamper aboard. Rat-infested warehouses are fumigated.

These safeguards, however, are by no means foolproof. Doctors have told us that the U.S. military has been careless with cargo containers around airports. These metal cases come in varying sizes and are welded shut when packed with cargo. But it would be easy for rats to slip into empty containers awaiting shipment back to the U.S.

Returning soldiers are also bringing malaria with them back to the U.S. The disease has increased tenfold in this country during the last two years.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Registration is in progress at the Elks Club for the blood donor campaign which has been arranged by the Pettis County Chapter, American Red Cross. Mrs. Harry Harnsberger is chairman of the committee and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell and Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton are co-chairmen.

FORTY YEARS AGO
Georgetown school, taught by Mrs. A. R. Patterson, held an elimination declamatory contest in which Ruth McKenzie came out victorious. The Rev. W. B. McGraw, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist church, Sedalia, was a judge. Among those contesting were: Ethel Moon, Claude and Junior Greenstreet, Thomas Crain, Blanche Jaekles, Robert Longmore and Miss McKenzie.

NINETY YEARS AGO
At a recent term of the Saline county court an appropriation of $5,000 was made to rebuild the iron bridge over Blackwater on the Sedalia-Marshall Road. It fell in about six weeks ago while a drove of cattle was being driven over it.

Ex-Red Terms North Viet Stab into Laos 'Hopeless'

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

VIENTIANE, LAOS (NEA)

The North Vietnamese captain, a loyal Communist party member, had volunteered for service in Laos. He was made an adviser and political commissar to Pathet Lao units. But though he was a veteran army officer and party member, he defected after several years in Laos.

In a three-hour talk with this reporter, he told his reasons for giving up his home and family, his Communist party membership, and his country:

"They told us it was our duty to help the Lao people drive out the American troops and bring freedom to the country," the captain said.

"But when I came here, I saw no American troops. I found that I was not fighting Americans; I was fighting the Lao."

"Almost entirely it was North Vietnamese troops fighting Lao troops. We had Pathet Lao units. But they had no enthusiasm for what they were doing. We did not trust them in battle."

"As time went on, we put North Vietnamese troops always in front to do the fighting. We used the Pathet Lao for occupation duties after the battles were over."

"Even so, our Pathet Lao units grew smaller and smaller. One battalion I advised was typical. It was down to 215 troops in 1964, to 150 in 1966 and now it has shrunk to 80 men."

"Our Pathet Lao units have grown smaller because, as we lost men by death, injury and desertion, we have found it more and more difficult to get new men to replace them. We haven't been able to attract the native people to our side, even in those parts of Laos we occupy militarily."

"Politically, we have made little headway. We have had to win by straight military means. As things have grown more difficult and as the local people have become less and less favorable to our presence, we have had to bring in more North Vietnamese troops. Now our mainline army in Laos is largely a North Vietnamese army. It is a mistake to think of the Pathet Lao as an army."

"But the troops from North Vietnam—those coming in to Laos to fight and those going on down into South Vietnam—are deteriorating, too. They're younger. Formerly, most of our troops were experienced men in their 20s. Many were 25 or even older. Now, great numbers are 17 and 18. There are a growing number of 16-year-olds. These men are much better armed than in past years. But they are green and inexperienced."

"We North Vietnamese are winning military victories in Laos. But the situation is hopeless. The people in Laos we've been able to attract are hopeless. We're not getting anywhere. The people are not with us."

It is easy for Americans to get discouraged about the progress of the war. The enemy is having his troubles, too.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

No Irrigation Dizziness In Inner Ear Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Sometime ago in the hospital I had a test where they strapped me in a chair and shot water into my ear. I became very dizzy. What was this test for?

A—In the Barany test, irrigating a normal ear with hot water causes dizziness and a tendency to fall to one side. That's why you were strapped in position. Irrigating the same ear with cold water causes a tendency to fall to the opposite side. In diseases of the inner ear neither hot nor cold irrigation causes dizziness.

Q—What is myringitis? What causes it? Is there any cure for it?

A—This is an inflammation of the ear drum. It may be caused by irritation of the drum from the outside, in which case removing the cause and applying soothing ear drops will help. It may also be caused by an infection traveling up the Eustachian tube from the junction of the nose and the throat. For this penicillin is given, but if there is bulging of the drum it may have to be punctured to let the pus drain out.

Q—I have been having trouble with my hearing lately. When I yawn it clears up like magic. What is the cause and what do you advise?

A—You have a blocking of your Eustachian tube. This may be caused by thick mucus or by a slight swelling of the lining of the tube. Sometimes chewing gum works just as well as yawning. When neither works, hold your nose and try to blow it gently with your mouth closed. If you have a cold or other upper respiratory infection your trouble will disappear when this clears up.

Q—What are the symptoms of inner ear disease? What is the best treatment?

A—The inner ear is the seat of both hearing and equilibrium. Diseases in this area may cause ringing of the ears, loss of hearing, dizziness or any combination of these. Treatment can be prescribed only when the cause has been determined.

Q—What can be done to relieve itching in my ear?

A—If it is an extension of seborrheic dermatitis, control of this disease with anti-dandruff shampooing two or three times a week and the application of betamethasone 17-valerate (Valisone) cream

In the bridge-o-rama match between New York and Montreal that preceded this year's Spring Nationals, Sam Gold of Montreal had a chance to distinguish himself.

At the other table, the New York East had gone down two tricks at four spades doubled. Sam did not know this, but it always is a good policy to make your contracts.

While Sam was thinking, Expert Commentator No. 1 said, "He can make it if he plays it right." Commentator No. 2 said, "Not if East leads the jack of spades when he gets in with the ace of diamonds." Commentator No. 3 said, "Yes, South can. All he needs is to know where all the cards are." Commentator No. 4 said, "They are well-located from the bidding. He will make it."

Sam did make the hand. He did play it as if he had seen all the cards. Can you figure out his play with the cards in view?

Sam won the ace of spades and led a low diamond. East was in with ace and made the best return of the spade jack. Sam rose with the queen, led his nine of diamonds and let it ride. Then he led the 10 of diamonds to dummy's king and made the key play of cashing dummy's ace of hearts. Next came a club back to the king, followed by a spade play. East cashed three spade tricks but had to concede the last two tricks to dummy's ace and jack of clubs.

Sam could also have ducked the jack of spades and made his contract. We will leave it to you to work that play out.

We will also leave it to you to figure out if Sam would have been able to make the hand if West had not stuck in his futile two-diamond call.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Who was the first Negro candidate for the vice presidential nomination of a major political party?

A—Blanche Kelso Bruce, U.S. Senator from Mississippi, in 1880.

Q—How many of our Presidents have died on the Fourth of July?

A—Three—John Adams and Thomas Jefferson on July 4, 1826 and James Monroe on July 4, 1831.

should do the trick. If it is caused by a ringworm, a fungicide ointment is indicated.

The World Today

Different Effect From Same Play

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York are employing the same political tactic in delaying formal declarations of candidacy. But the effect on their presidential chances is notably different.

For Humphrey, the delay has been beneficial; for Rockefeller it has complicated his already considerable problems.

Humphrey supporters are pleased with the way things have gone since President Johnson withdrew from the race and it became evident the vice president would challenge Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy for the Democratic nomination.

Since there is no doubt Humphrey intends to run—he's expected to announce that Saturday — his backers have been setting up a national campaign organization and rounding up convention support. Meanwhile, their candidate goes about his business as vice president, making appearances around the country.

Their situation has been greatly simplified because filing deadlines for most presidential primaries had passed by the time Johnson withdrew, freeing them to concentrate on nonprimary states which elect most convention delegates.

Rockefeller's supporters are not entirely satisfied with the way things are going despite their optimistic statements about the support the draft-Rockefeller movement is getting around the country.

Although it's known Rockefeller wants the GOP presidential nomination and intends to fight former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for it, many politicians have told the Rockefeller camp they cannot support the New Yorker unless he makes his candidacy publicly clear.

This was the dominant theme of a strategy session last week between key leaders in the Rockefeller camp and such uncommitted GOP leaders as Gov. George Romney of Michigan. To a man, they felt Rockefeller must make a formal statement soon if he is to have any chance.

Rockefeller is counting heavily on his speeches around the country on major issues, plus his appearances in connection with platform hearings by the Republican Governors Association next month, to rouse support for his candidacy.

But his first effort, a Washington speech on urban problems before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, fell flat last week. Now some observers think that in withdrawing from the primaries he forfeited the arena in which he is strongest — person-to-person campaigning, shaking hands and off-the-cuff speeches.

Meanwhile, delegates are being selected and time is running out on Rockefeller even though the nominee won't be picked until the Republican convention in August.

World Bank Affiliate

By CYRENE DEAR

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The International Finance Corporation, I.F.C., was formed in 1956 as an affiliate of the World Bank to assist the growth of the private economic sector in less developed countries. It provides risk capital for productive private enterprises, in association with private investors and management. In the beginning I.F.C. helped finance mining and manufacturing enterprises and privately controlled development finance companies, but recently has made substantial loans in food processing, distribution services, and tourism. I.F.C. supports joint ventures which provide opportunities to combine domestic sponsorship, capital and knowledge of markets and other conditions with technical and managerial experience in the industrialized nations.

I.F.C. has 83 members and has made 138 commitments amounting to about $221 million in 36 countries. The I.F.C. will not lend unless 51 per cent of shares are owned by the local company requesting the loan. It advises private investors in planning its projects.

Retiring president George D. Woods in his annual report to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development said: "Advances in scientific discovery and technical application have increased the potential of mankind. . . . We stand at a point when humanity literally has the power to blow itself to bits or to achieve for the whole human race, security and comfort of which kings of old never dreamed. . . . So far the world is only beginning to tap its new potential. This conference 'gives hope that at this particular turning in the road of human history, we will go in the right direction; that just as man turned long ago from savagery to civilization, he will now turn toward an increasingly better life on this planet.'"

Warren Unna of the Washington Post recently wrote:

"With McNamara's reputation for dynamism, the McNamara regime presumably will open new approaches in international development."

"Certainly there is a significant faction in the U.S. Congress, led by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who long have urged that future foreign aid to the underdeveloped countries be made multilaterally through just such organizations as the World Bank."

"Looks as though Bobby's pulling out all the stops—he got a HAIRCUT!"

Washington Capsules

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York physician is pressing for less restrictive medical use of a still experimental drug he says has converted many hopeless drug addicts into useful citizens.

Dr. Vincent P. Dole of Rockefeller University said Monday the government has restricted use of methadone—a medical substitute for such opiates as heroin—to research programs, which are being conducted in 13 cities.

"I want to get more doctors and hospitals involved in using it," he told a news conference. A report on the drug's use was made earlier to the spring meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Dole said methadone is a narcotic that could be addictive but that controlled dosage to about 750 drug addicts at his hospital has shown they can be taken off harmful drugs without becoming addicted to the methadone.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to trim the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency's authorization to $17 million and limit its outside research projects to $7 million for the next two years.

President Johnson had asked $33 million over three years. The House voted $20 million over two years.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Atomic Energy Commission scientist says special U.S. military satellites have proved capable of detecting sneak nuclear tests more than twice the distance of the sun out into space.

Dr. R. F. Taschek of AEC's Los Alamos, N.M., laboratory, reported Tuesday the four pairs of Vela satellites are deployed in widely separated positions about 70,000 miles above the earth.

Taschek, who indicated the Soviet Union may have similar satellites aloft, said the U.S. spacecraft can detect nuclear tests as far as 200 million miles out in space.

He said a fifth pair of Vela satellites is to be launched sometime this year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A retired Army colonel's battle to have two portable toilets in Arlington National Cemetery removed from public view has ended in swift, decisive victory.

Retired Col. Zebulon L. Strickland Jr. called a cemetery news conference Monday to publicize what he called the desecration of graves because other efforts to have the toilets removed had failed.

"I'm just going around in a bureaucratic swirl," he said.

An Army spokesman announced late Tuesday one of the toilets has been removed forever and the other would be placed in a warehouse away from public view.

Vietnamese Shelter US Soldiers

By MAX NASH
Associated Press Photographer

BEN LUC, Vietnam (AP) — A South Vietnamese farmer and his wife, living in Viet Cong territory, gave refuge through the night to a wounded American soldier while his unit fought Viet Cong forces only a few hundred yards away.

The wounded GI, Spec. 4 Van Snapp of Knoxville, Tenn., was hit in the left thigh by shrapnel after he had clambered out of an armored personnel carrier Monday night near Ben Luc, a Mekong Delta town, 12 miles southwest of Saigon.

Snapp's company, from the 9th Infantry Division, was drawing heavy fire and fighter-bombers pounded the enemy. Snapp crawled about 200 yards across a dried-out rice field to a small, thatched-roof house. He found it empty and had crawled back outside when the owners, white-bearded Huynh Van Biet, 53, and his wife, returned.

The couple dragged the soldier back inside and put him on some rice sacks. They gave him hot tea and water and waited through the night, until after the Viet Cong broke off the fight and fled.

At daybreak Biet went out and found Snapp's unit. Medic Jerry Birchfield of Roan Mountain, Tenn., returned to the house with the farmer.

Suffering from loss of blood and exhaustion, Snapp told Birchfield that at times during the 12 hours he lay wounded he didn't think he was going to make it.

"He's a real lucky guy," Birchfield said. "This is VC territory."

Teen-Age Instructor

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Edith Stern, who entered college at the age of 13, has been accepted as a math instructor at Michigan State University. She now is 15.

The teen-ager, who has been called genius since the age of two, chose a graduate assistantship in the math department at Michigan State over offers from "six or seven other very fine schools," said her father, Aaron.

Edith graduates from Florida Atlantic University in August, celebrates her 16th birthday a few days later and then heads for East Lansing in September.

According to the university, Edith will deliver two-hour algebra lectures twice a week, act as consultant to students and grade tests in addition to taking three graduate courses.

"I hope I'll be able to finish up on my PH.D. in two years," she said.

"This is a gigantic step she is taking," her father said. "Michigan State has one other genius who has attracted just as much attention as she has and he will

Can Travel for Less

HONOLULU (AP) — Wives of wounded servicemen may soon fly to Honolulu from the mainland for $35 less than at present.

The Military Bureau of the Air Transport Command has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for the discount.

The discount is available for family members of servicemen coming here from Vietnam on rest and recuperation leave.

A wounded helicopter pilot at Tripler Army hospital here complained recently that his wife couldn't get a discount because he was wounded seven days before he was due in Honolulu on leave.

undoubtedly be a new challenge to her."

"It will be interesting; it'll certainly be different," Edith said when she learned that one of her classmates will be Michael Grost, 14-year-old senior in advance mathematics. Grost was admitted to Michigan State at 12.

The Brooklyn-born coed's i.q. has been tested at anywhere from 154 to 201 depending on the test used. Dr. John Hocking, director of graduate admissions at MSU who approved the admission of both young scholars, said Grost's intelligence has defied the best attempts to measure it.

Edith learned to read at two, played chess at four, dropped out of junior high school at 12 and was admitted to college at 13.

Except during discussions of the fall of the Roman Empire, Freud or trigonometry, Edith appears to be a normal, teen-age girl.

Despite the phenomenal speed at which Edith has progressed through life, she says, "I've missed nothing. I comprehend more than most. I suppose, but I'm not sure how much extra I have. I don't know what it would feel like to be in college at any other age. This is normal for me."

Wilderness Destruction a Threat to Man

By SID MOODY

AP Newsfeatures Writer

In the beginning was the land, all there would be, then and forever: mountain and meadow, forest and prairie.

Man came later.

He humbled the land, mile upon mile, town upon town. The wide spaces narrowed and narrow still. And will it end only when the suffering land, all of it, is gone, rutted and shorn by man's plow and his axe?

The Dust Bowl of the 1930s: the clawed scars of strip mines in the Kentucky hills of yesterday and right now; scummed rivers lethal to life: man has done it all.

Such rape and its consequences, says Stewart Udall, is America's "quiet crisis."

Not just because of its sheer waste, but because man, as he changes the land, is tampering with the very house in which he was created. And no one, none, can say if after millennia of such tampering man will not stand homeless in an alien nature he desecrated. An example:

A young boy desirous of a bike saved up money by trapping skunks around his family's upstate New York farm. The bike finally bought, he pedaled to the pond where he used to enjoy watching wild ducks raising their young. They were gone. Why? The skunks he trapped fed on turtle eggs. No skunks, more turtles—who ate the ducks.

That has the simplicity of a bedtime story. Consider, then, this potential nightmare. In Brazil there is talk of making a reservoir in the Amazon basin as large as Western Europe. "Has any one asked what withdrawing this much oxygen-producing green might mean to mankind?" asks David Brower, outspoken executive secretary of the Sierra Club, a U.S. conservationist group.

Can man, who dams rivers, levels forests and paves the swamp, be so arrogant as to be sure he is no more than that little boy traveling a path whose end he knows not?

Voice have been heard before: keep America's air fresh, her streams pure, her cities clean. Now there are those that warn: save the wilderness while some remains.

They argue for reasons of aesthetics, for traditional reasons of conservation. And for a newer one: that the virgin wilderness may some day be man's ultimate chance for his own survival.

"It is not given man to make a wilderness," said Brower, quoting from author Wallace Stegner. "But he can make a desert. And has."

And cut off in such a desert, having blighted the plant and animal whose destiny he shares, man conceivably could wither. Some day.

Some facts:

—The land and water area of the 50 states totals 2.3 billion acres.

—Of this, about 10 per cent remains as time has made it. The rest: cities, farms, highways, reservoirs, factories.

From this 10 per cent the United States will set aside large areas of wilderness. This was decided by the Wilderness Act of 1964.

But pivotal questions have not been decided: how much wilderness is enough: for aesthetics, for conservation, for, perhaps, survival? And what, to be sure, is a wilderness?

The act defines wilderness as "an area where earth and its community of life are untrammelled by man, where man himself is a visitor who does not remain."

But...

Congress, confronted with political realities, will permit mining in wilderness areas of the U.S. Forest Service until 1984.

Mining? In a wilderness? What, then is a wilderness? Others wonder.

—A lodge owner who owns land within a Forest Service wilderness is suing because, under the act, the service will only allow him to reach his property by wagon, not a gasoline-powered jeep.

—Poachers have all but eliminated the American crocodile in the Everglades National Park to supply the market for ladies' shoes and handbags.

—Udall, secretary of the interior, whose department contains the Park Service, battled with Orville Freeman, whose Department of Agriculture contains the Forest Service, over a proposed four-lane highway through Sequoia National Park to open up a skiing center on national forest land.

—Trees thunder to the ground daily while the argument goes on whether to create a redwoods national park.

"Every day they constantly chip away more of our resources."

That is a timber industry lobbyist talking of land set aside for conservation.

"They are constantly whittling away our resources."

That is a conservationist talking of the land. Clearly, each does not see each other's forest for the trees.

Some more facts:

The major land holders of the United States are the Bureau of Land Management, 452 million acres, about two-fifths of the nation, the Forest Service, 186.3 million acres, two-fifths of the nation's forests, the Fish and Wildlife Service, 28.5 million acres, and the Park Service, 27.5 million acres. The lands of the latter three agencies will be sites of the proposed wilderness areas.

The Forest Service, which allows multiple use of its lands including mining, grazing and logging, has, nonetheless, set aside 15 million acres as wilderness and primitive areas in a program begun in 1924.

By the act, however, these lands will have to be restudied as well as proposals of the other agencies and receive congressional approval.

The Forest Service has studied wilderness areas totalling 1.9 million acres so far and has designated one million to be presented to Congress. The Park Service is studying 57 areas ranging in size from 5,000 acres, the minimum under the act, to 100,000 acres, including such national parks as Isle Royale in Lake Superior and Lassen in California. Fish and Wildlife is considering about 90 refuges ranging from the huge 1.8 million-acre Kenai Moose Range in Alaska to the 5,900-acre Great Swamp refuge in New Jersey.

Last month President Johnson sent Congress the first actual proposals for official designation: 24 areas in 13 states totalling almost one million acres.

Making a capital "W" wilderness out of a wilderness, is, however, a thorny business. The Forest Service has proposed a 142,000-acre San Rafael Wilderness in the Los Padres National Forest in California. The Wilderness Society, a conservationist group that treats more softly but as determinedly as the Sierra Club through the nation's forests, claims the wilderness should include several thousand additional acres the Forest Service insists is vital for fire control.

The Park Service, too, has difficulties with its friends and foes. There are those even in the department, who feel, stridently, that national parks should remain as primitive as possible. Few roads. Few lodges. None of the mob scenes that descend on Yosemite on summer weekends, littering the valley with trailers, beer cans and film wrappers.

Yet national park attendance, 130 million in 1966, rises about 10 per cent yearly.

What should be the over-all policy of the Park Service which welcomes many thousands to its Washington Monument and tents, if that, to the summit of its Mt. McKinley?

It tries to strike a mean of the greatest good for the greatest number—without impairing the virginity of the park. But does that mean all trails should be blacktopped, as some are, to keep the tourists off the greenery? Should Yellowstone's bears be behind bars looking out, or should the people be, looking in?

As competition for the finite land increases so does the necessity for the American genius for compromise. But can a compromised wilderness be a wilderness? Or even a park?

—The Cape Cod and Fire Island National seashores have glowing sandy beaches. And they have the private homes of residents it would have been too costly in time and effort to dislodge.

—Assateague Island in Maryland and Point Reyes in California are to become national parks. But land speculation has boomed the cost of their acquisition.

—The Glacier Peak Wilderness in Washington has 450,000 acres of virgin land and the Kennecott Copper Co. owns 320 acres of ore-rich land right in the middle. Conservation, or copper?

—Canals cut by the Corps of Engineers have cut off natural water flow to the Everglades, endangering its flora and fauna. Wildlife, or waterways?

—The Great Swamp in New Jersey, a rare virgin wild only 30 miles from New York City, is the site the Port of New York Authority wants for a mammoth airport. Birds, or jets?

The effort to make Wilderness out of the wilderness creates some fine points, some small, some not.

Fish and Wildlife would like to create a Wilderness in Michigan in a refuge that is the nesting ground for the Kirtland warbler. But to provide optimum nesting characteristics for the little bird, the area must intentionally be burned over periodically. Which contradicts the definition of a wilderness under the act. What to do?

No one has determined even if it can be determined how much camping a wilderness can take and remain pristine. And camping guides are grumbling that they can no longer use power saws to clear trails and cut firewood as are snow gaugers who can no longer fly into the vastness by helicopter to estimate spring runoffs. What to do?

And what to do about intra-governmental competition?

The dispute between the Forest Service, with its multiple use program for national forests, and the Park Service, with its creed of minimal interference of the land, reached such a pitch in the 1960s that Udall and Freeman had to sign a peace pact that is now known as the "Treaty of the Potomac."

But who is the ultimate winner—or loser? The skiers, who can roam the Rockies for snow? Or the giant sequoias, who have but one home in the world?

On the other hand, if Freeman's assurances prove wrong and the sequoias are harmed, so what? Who really needs sequoias or Kirtland warblers or crocodiles or undammed mountain streams in a West always wondering where tomorrow's drinking water will come from? Who needs wilderness, really?

Surviv, said a Forest Service planner, to the average man in the street a drive down the Blue Ridge Parkway in Virginia may be as much wilderness as he will ever see. Or ever want to.

"But at the same time there is a deep personal comfort to almost every one knowing that somewhere out there is a rugged land that is hard to get to but is there, unspoiled. Maybe some day he'll go, maybe not, but it's there."

"Man is a part of nature," said Udall. "He needs Great Swamps and Yellowstone and Alaskas. They are his tie to the earth. The more we build a pressure cooker society, the more we need the wilderness as an escape valve."

"Maybe 50 years from now we'll be thanked more for what we didn't build than what we did," said an aide.

"More people go to movies than art galleries," said Nadel. "But we don't eliminate art galleries. I don't think anyone can halt what we call progress, but we need these oases where man can get back to himself."

"The wilderness is land that can be found in balance scientifically. It is run by the laws of nature, not man," said Nadel.

Suppose at some future day man finds he has tipped the balance of nature too far. Suppose he finds that he needs the seed, the animal, the unadulterated genetic resources that are the bases of his evolution? And suppose they are gone, or hopelessly distorted?

Then, indeed, may he cry ah, wilderness.

It is to prevent the possibility of such a dead end that a growing number of conservationists are looking to the wilderness as a gene "bank." If, for some reason, man needs a bighorn sheep or a sequoia or the delicate harmony of a forest acre, it will be there, in the wilderness.

The key question, then, as Udall put it, "is whether we can draw laws in these areas (of conservation) with some certainty they won't be changed."

"The wilderness can't be won once and for all," said Brower. "It can only be lost once and for all."

Clinton Arts Council Plans Annual Fair

The Clinton Community Arts Council is sponsoring an Arts and Crafts Fair in Clinton May 18, on the Henry County courthouse lawn. The fair will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The show is open to persons living within a 50-mile radius of Clinton who are of high school age or older. Exhibits are to include paintings, drawings, ceramics, wood carving, leatherwork, needlework, tote paintings and others.

Deadline for entries is May 16. Items are to be taken with the entry forms to the Burns Building, May 15 or May 16. A staff of 25 women will be on hand to take care of the entries and to answer questions.

All entries must have been completed in the past two years, and must be "new" to the fair.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners in both the arts and crafts divisions. Judging will be done by a highly-qualified judge from Springfield.

The Value of Cans

Orange juice cans go to their heads. Debby, left, and Denny Duenow, two 17-year-old identical twins, take the orange juice out of the cans and use the containers as rollers because "they give you curls without kinks." Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Landers, suburban Pasadena Hills in St. Louis, like the fact that the girls are putting to double use a plentiful household commodity, but they don't approve of the girls wearing the cans on their heads outside the house. The Landers family drinks three cans of orange juice a day. (UPI)

Safety Gain Eases Loss of Highway

By Ralph Jones
Democrat-Capital Staff Writer

The planned relocation of Highway 50 to the south of Ottoville will be somewhat of a setback to local business, but for safety it should benefit the community.

James Wear, mayor, said he has talked to several local merchants and other businessmen who indicated their businesses will suffer. For instance, service stations now located along the highway will lose some business. So will other stores that do business with passing traffic. The relocation is expected to have little or no effect on grocery and general merchandising firms because this type of business deals primarily with local residents.

From the safety angle, Wear said, the relocation will be a boon to the community. Several years ago, when Highway 50 was improved, the Highway Department planned to locate the roadway south of town. But local citizens insisted on having the highway run its present course north of the railroad and through town.

This location called for the "Ottoville Cut" just east of the Lamine River bridge, a curve leading to the bridge, a highway running through the main part of town and another climbing curve just west of town.

Increased traffic speed in the ensuing years presented a safety problem. Numerous bad accidents occurred on the Lamine River bridge and another bridge just east of the city. A city ordinance had to be passed prohibiting parking within 10 feet of the pavement where the highway passes through the city. Several accidents occurred on the highway leading down the hill into town from the west.

Taking all of these things into consideration, the Highway Department decided to relocate the new highway south of town, along a route generally following the route considered many years ago.

The new highway will cross the railroad in the vicinity of the Highway 50 and Highway 135 junction west of town, run south of town about one mile, then on east to a point about five miles east of Ottoville, near Syracuse.

This relocation will probably call for an access road, or farm to market road, from the new highway north to the city, Wear said. However, no plans for such a road have been announced.

Surveying for the relocation is underway now. The Highway Department has the route plotted on a map, but this map is detailed in such a manner it has not been made available for publication.

"We are definitely out of Ottoville," a Highway

Department spokesman commented. The relocation will give a better crossing of streams in the area and a better crossing of the railroad, and provide an improved highway route through the area, the spokesman added.

The relocation is included in a tentative rights of way and construction program previously announced for the fiscal year 1969. It includes the acquisition of a nine-mile segment of Highway 50 from the Pettis County line to its termination about two miles east of Syracuse.

The map shows this will make the new highway almost a direct route, and will remove Highway 50 from Cooper County into Morgan County.

The work is a part of a $159,374,000 program approved for the year.

Triumph Over Machine

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Six heart specialists poring over cardiograms from three patients out-diagnosed a computer Monday.

But the contest was close—one victory for the specialists and two ties.

"A computer is not as good as an expert," said Dr. Eliot Corday, a past president of the American College of Cardiology. "But a general practitioner could use a computer to good advantage."

The cardiologists vs. computer contest was set up at the eighth Inter-American Congress of Cardiology, a week-long meeting of some 200 heart doctors from 21 American countries.

The doctors won the first test—studying the cardiograph of a 75-year-old man with a chronic congested heart.

"The computer said about the same thing as the doctors' penel," Corday said. "But it was less detailed. Our doctors gave a more complete diagnosis. The computer didn't give all the significant points."

The next two tests were adjudged ties with identical diagnoses by computer and specialists. All the test cardiograms were from North American patients. None of the patients was present or identified.

The computer at Georgetown University in Washington, used information fed to it by Dr. Cesar Caceres, a Honduran who works for the U.S. Public Health Service in Washington. Results were telephoned to Lima.

The panel doctors were Alfonso Anselmi of Venezuela, A. Castellanos Jr. of New York, Danto Penaloza of Peru, Mauricio Rosenbaum of Argentina, Demetrio Sodi-Pallares of Mexico and Joao Tranchesi of Brazil.

Even though man triumphed, "You have to give one thing to the computer," Dr. Corday said. "It's faster."

"It'll produce a diagnosis in 13 to 15 seconds. We usually take a little longer."

Admits His Failure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A retired Army colonel, incensed over the placing of portable latrines near graves at Arlington National Cemetery, is warring to remove them from public view.

But as of Monday, the private war of Col. Zebulon L. Strickland Jr. against the chemical latrines had been for naught. "I'm just going around in a bureaucratic swirl," he growled.

The 53-year-old former artillery officer from Montgomery, Ala., said the battle began April 9 when he noticed one of the offending latrines about 10 paces from a grave.

He said he complained about it to cemetery officials and it was removed after more than a week—only to turn up later near another grave in the 420-acre cemetery.

Strickland said he didn't know for whose use the chemical latrines were intended, although he thought they might be used by workers who tend the final resting place of the nation's military dead.

No cemetery administrator was available for comment late Monday.

"They don't seem to realize that a temporary desecration of a grave is just as bad as a permanent desecration," Strickland said, leading newsmen on a brief tour of the cemetery grounds.

He pointed out a grey chemical latrine seven paces from the grave of an Army Air Corps sergeant killed in 1944 and another, painted in white enamel and bearing the company name of "Don's Johns."

The second was 16 paces from the grave of an Ohio private who served in World War I and was buried in Arlington in 1965. "Disgraceful," snapped the colonel.

The colonel, who began 30 years of Army service as a private in the Alabama National Guard, said his head-on approach has failed and he will change his tactics.

Strickland, who now lives in nearby McClean, Va., warned: "My frontal assault has failed, but I don't like to fail a mission."

Judy Carne Finally Recognized

NEW YORK (AP) — On a recent spring morning near the corner of Madison Avenue and 54th Street, passersby were startled to see a small red-haired girl with a Peter Pan haircut suddenly crying out: "And now, folks, it's sock it to me time..."

"People come up in the street, even in restaurants," said Judy Carne, looking pleased. "They call me by name and ask me to say it once just for them. And, like an idiot, I do it."

There is considerable irony in the emergence of Judy Carne, late of Northampton, England, as television's "Sock it to me" girl. Before NBC's "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" caught on, Miss Carne had spent several busy years in Hollywood with fat roles in three series. None lasted more than one season and nothing much happened to her career.

She had auditioned for and won the part of the English girl living with an American family in "Fair Exchange." This took her to Hollywood and introduced her to the American TV audience. This folded, and she moved on—briefly—to "Baileys of Balboa." Last season she co-starred in "Love on a Rooftop," but this soon faded.

"I had worked with one of the 'laugh-in' writers in England, and I'd done singing and dancing," she said. "So I auditioned and was picked. Simple as that."

"Sock it to me" is, of course, one of those catch phrases that the public suddenly picks up, gives it a whirl and just as suddenly discards. Even as the show's season ended—it is now in reruns—the writers were trying out a couple of potential successors. "Here Comes the Judge" and "Let it All Hang Out," whatever they mean.

"The Beat of The Brass," Herb Alpert's second television special on Monday night was an hour almost totally filled with the distinctive, attractive music of his Tijuana Brass. The show had trouble making the visual part of the show as interesting as the music.

The CBS show, while tuneful enough, lacked the sparkle and ingenuity that made the special last season such a treat.

Not a Curtain

Patricia Pleak isn't waiting for her cue to go on stage. She's inspecting strips of critical electronic contacts before their delivery to the assembly line of computer equipment at RCA's Van Nuys, Calif., plant. (UPI)

Children for Lunch?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dinner specials at a cafeteria chain advertised in the Kansas City Times included: "Sat. & Sun.—fried children." A correction the next day, saying "we like children," explained the ad should have read: "Sat. & Sun.—fried chicken."

The DO-IT-ALL

MILNOT makes milk and cream cooking easy, economical. With no canned milk taste it's perfect for coffee and cereal. It's so rich it whips, but it's low in saturated fat because the animal fats are replaced by vegetable oils. It takes almost a quart of whole milk to make one can of MILNOT. Yet it costs half as much.

TUTTI-FRUTTI SURPRISE CAKE

1/2 cup diluted MILNOT (1/2 cup MILNOT and 1/4 cup juice drained from cherries)
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon baking soda
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup mashed bananas (approx. 2 large)
4 teaspoons lemon juice stirred into—
1/4 cup MILNOT
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup quartered maraschino cherries
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Grease and flour bottom of 9 or 10-inch tube pan. Melt chocolate pieces in MILNOT over low heat; cool. Cream butter and sugar until fluffy; add eggs one at a time. Combine bananas, sourd MILNOT and vanilla; sift dry ingredients together. Add dry and liquid ingredients alternately to the creamed mixture, beginning and ending with dry. Stir in cherries. Spread one-third of mixture in bottom of pan; spoon on about half the chocolate mixture and sprinkle with half the nuts. Add another layer of batter, then repeat with chocolate and nuts, ending with layer of batter. Bake at 350° for 50-55 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly. Cool—do not invert pan. Remove from pan and spread on glaze, allowing to drip down sides.

Glaze:

2 tablespoons butter, browned in heavy saucepan
1 cup powdered sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2 or 3 tablespoons MILNOT
Stir sugar into butter; add vanilla and enough MILNOT to make easy spreading consistency.

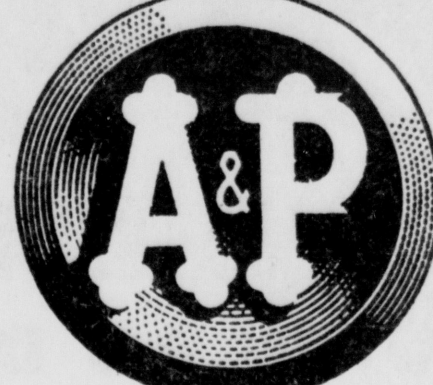

If cows could... they'd give MILNOT.

Interesting Question

Just how much does $44,000,000 cover anyway? Spring being what it is on a college campus, a group of Carleton College students decided to take the question literally when it was posed recently as a purely academic query. So with bushel baskets of one-dollar bills they began the grueling task of seeing just how much of the College's 90 acre main campus 44 million dollar bills would cover. But since this fun loving group led by hammer wielding William Esch, senior, right background, was hardly creating the true "image" of Carleton students, a slide rule was also employed by George Roberts, senior, left, who has the real answer, 105.8 acres.

Disputes Nixon Claims

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits challenges the results of a national opinion poll indicating Richard M. Nixon could defeat any one of the three leading potential Democratic presidential nominees.

Javits said in an interview that this sampling of potential voters will not affect efforts being made to get his fellow New Yorker, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, actively into the race to oppose Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination.

Nixon's aides were so elated by the Gallup Poll results that they called the survey to the attention of newsmen.

Communists Preparing For Summit Meet

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Communist delegations gathered in Budapest today to set the stage for a world congress in Moscow later this year aimed at promoting "anti-imperialist action unity."

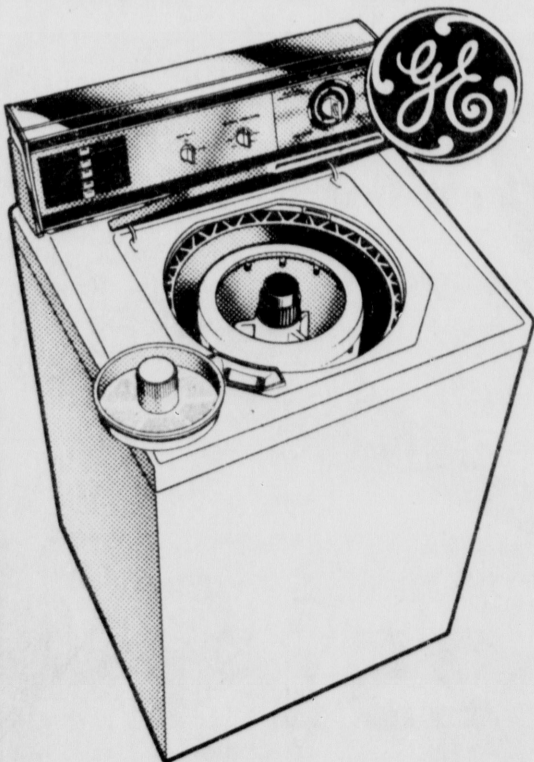

The more independent Communist parties—those of Romania, Yugoslavia, North Vietnam, North Korea and Japan—were expected to stay away, but an East European source said they are keeping an open mind about participation in the Moscow congress. The Chinese and Albanian parties are certain not to attend either meeting.

In sessions beginning Wednesday, the delegations will decide on the program, procedure and scope for the world conference, called two months ago at a consultative meeting of 66 parties in Budapest.

Fire Is 'Delivered'

ALLEGANY, N.Y. (AP) — Volunteer firemen didn't have to go to a fire here Monday—an Erie-Lackawanna Railroad crew delivered it by fast freight. Train crewmen discovered the fire aboard one of its three diesel units soon after it left Salamanca. They used a radio hook-up to call the firemen and as soon as the train rolled in, the volunteers used chemical solutions to douse the blaze.

More Men Are Taking Secretarial Positions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — "Take a letter, Jack."

That order may become routine in tomorrow's business office. For, reversing a trend of more than half a century, men are beginning to challenge women for top-paying secretarial jobs in industry.

"Of the nation's 2½ to 3 million secretaries and typists, about 98 per cent are women," said Donald Blanchard, Royal Typewriter Company executive. "But there is no doubt that more and more men are entering the field."

The prospect of male competition so far hasn't stirred panic in the bosoms of the nation's Girl Fridays, who are currently celebrating National Secretaries Week. The all-gal National Secretaries Association even has generously amended its by-laws to admit men to membership.

The 1960 U.S. census listed only 41,752 male secretaries and 11,752 male stenographers. That's a mere dribble. But industry sources agree the number has increased steadily since then.

Why would a man want to become a secretary? A better question is—why not?

The secretarial "profession" is being upgraded all the time. It provides indoor work in pleasant surroundings, has many fringe benefits, and the pay is good—from $5,000 to $10,000 a year, or even more. Many young men see the jobs as springboards to executive posts.

And there are plenty of openings. It is expected that industry will be able to absorb 200,000 more secretaries annually for the next decade.

There is plenty of precedent for the aspiring male secretary who dreams of success.

Did you know that President Woodrow Wilson, Henry Ford, and John D. Rockefeller were expert stenographers? The late Billy Rose, multimillionaire showman, started as a stenographer for financier Bernard Baruch and won national contests for his speed at shorthand. Van Johnson, the screen star, once worked as a stenographer for stage producers who couldn't afford a full-time secretary.

The male secretary has some definite advantage in his favor.

It is easier for him to travel with his boss on out-of-town assignments. He generally has fewer objections to staying at the office and working late hours. And—this is a big plus with many employers—he is less likely to quit his job when he gets married, unless he should happen to wed an heiress.

It would be an ironic turn of fortune's wheel if men should rout women from the typing jobs which first emancipated the fairer sex from having to depend for their livelihood by entering household service, working as sewing machine operators, and hiring out as governesses.

For throughout history the secretarial field was male-dominated until the start of this century. The Roman emperors, Julius and Augustus, although both were shorthand experts themselves, dictated their decrees to male scribes. So did industrial tycoons of the Middle Ages.

In America, as late as 1890, 10 out of every 11 secretarial positions were held by men. Then a flood of determined young ladies in mutton sleeves and high buttoned shoes began beating on office doors.

Now the tide seems to be turning a bit the other way.

Clarksburg PTA Finishes Year

Clarksburg School P.T.A. met Tuesday evening for the last meeting of the school year.

Mrs. Fern Castle gave the devotional, the installation of officers was held, and Mrs. Patty Toler, president, appointed committees to serve through the next school year.

LBJ 'Retirement' Shows Policy Wrong

TOPEKA (AP) — A critic of America's Vietnam policy told a Washburn University audience Monday that President Johnson's announcement not to seek renomination amounted to an admission that his policies in Vietnam were wrong. Dr. Benjamin Spock, a famed baby doctor, said Johnson was "so committed to victory in the war that he could not unlock himself from it."

Spock said "Everything Johnson has said about the war has been proven by events to be totally wrong. 'Everything the peace movement has been saying has turned out to be right. Johnson's withdrawal is his belated admission that he is wrong."

Dinosaur Footprints Found By Teenagers

LIVINGSTON, N.J. (AP) — five teen-agers have discovered the footprints of two types of dinosaurs at a quarry here. The prints, ranging in size from one-half inch to larger than an open hand belonged, according to geologists, to dinosaurs called the anomoepus and the anchisauripus. They roamed the state more than 200 million years ago.
